Monster Aids Building Project

High Lift For The High Rise

By ROBERT POPP

An ungainly metal monster that looks like a cross between an ore bridge and a praying mantis sways in seemingly erratic patterns over a West End tract as work moves ahead on construction of an 11-story apartment building that will provide 130 housing units for the elderly.

The $1,738,000 prime contract for the structure is held by the Builders Co., Inc., of Youngstown. The J. H. Libby Co. of Cleveland, the concrete contractor, operates the metal monster—the real workhorse on the job—which is known as a self-climbing crane.

Sitting on a base of steel sections resembling latticework, the crane has a tremendous boom that allows the operator to pick up buckets of concrete, huge sections of wooden forms and other components and lift them onto the job.

THE OPERATOR'S cab sits atop the boom directly over the base. The boom has a reach of 110 feet, enabling the operator to swing a hook to ground level at the end of a cable, lift a big batch of bulky material and swing it onto the proper place in the building job. It also is used in lifting and placing structural steel.

Dave Porter is superintendent of the job for the prime contractor, while Ray Woomer is inspector for the federal government — which guaranteed the loan for the contract — and the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority, for which the structure is being erected.

Porter said the job, launched in July, will continue virtally without interruption throughout the winter. The crews will continue to pour concrete, covering the fresh work and providing gas - fired heat to assure it cures properly, despite subfreezing temperatures, he explained.

The contract calls for the superstructure work to be finished in March. The high-rise building will be erected from steel and concrete, with a brick facing.

THE BUILDING will set on pilings, called caissons, which extend an average of 50 feet underground. The contractor poured 827 cubic yards of concrete into the hollow pilings.

The support beam, which extends around the perimeter of the building, also has been poured, as have the supports for the second floor. Forms now are being placed for the concrete work on the second floor and the pour probably will be started this week.

The forms are preassembled in a shed on the ground level and then lifted onto the job by the ungainly appearing crane. Concrete is poured in the same fashion. It is hauled to the job site in transit mix trucks and

Allies Make Sweep In Area Of Da Nang

Thousands Of Troops Hit Enemy

North Viet Losses Placed At 416 After Battles On Sunday

SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces killed 416 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in the populous coastal lowlands below Da Nang in a series of battles Sunday, military spokesmen reported. It was the heaviest fighting in the area in three months.

Thousands of troops were sweeping the seacoast and jungled foothills in an attempt to thwart any plans the enemy might have to attack Da Nang in force.

Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, the South Vietnamese commander of the northern provinces, said the fighting marked the opening of the enemy command's winter offensive in his area. However, he told a news conference he does not expect any major ground attacks against the larger cities, including Da Nang, Hue, Quang Tri, Quang Ngai, Hoi An and Tam Ky.

Instead, said Lam, he expects rocket, mortar and terror attacks on the cities and ground attacks on smaller, more lightly defended district towns and outposts.

Lam said there had been 45 enemy-initiated incidents since Saturday night in the three provinces below Da Nang, including eight ground attacks, 32 mortar and rocket attacks and five terror incidents. He said prisoners reported this was the kickoff of the enemy winter campaign.

Twelve South Vietnamese soldiers were killed in the biggest battle and 72 were wounded. The South Koreans reported seven of their men killed and two wounded in another engagement. No American casualties were reported.

The new outbreak of fighting came after a weekend wave of enemy attacks and terrorism in Da Nang and along an 80-mile stretch of the coastal lowlands.

MIDLAND POLICE searched through the Woodlane Alley area Sunday for a sharp object which caused the death of Freddie Smothers of Wellsville, found fatally wounded in his auto.

Wellsville Man Dies

Stab Clues Hunted By Midland Police

Midland police today pressed an investigation into the death of a Wellsville steelworker who was found slumped over the steering wheel of his car late Saturday night with a stab wound of the chest.

Freddie Smothers, 38, of 341 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, died Sunday morning at 3:15 a.m. at Rochester General Hospital from what authorities said was a penetration of the heart by a sharp weapon.

He was found in his car on Midland Ave. opposite the borough building at 11:20 p.m. Saturday.

Police said the object which caused the deep wound of the left side of the chest has not yet been located.

They said his car earlier had been seen parked in Woodland Alley near 4th St.

Smothers apparently drove his car from Woodland Alley to the borough building, where he was found by Patrolman Charles Sallis and Special Officer Mac McCauley, who were on routine patrol. The two officers first thought the victim was intoxicated, then discovered the wound.

A search was conducted in the 4th St. area for the weapon. Samples of blood from the area and from the interior of the car were being compared by authorities today.

Officials said it has not been established whether the death is a murder, accident or suicide.

The victim is the son of Benny Smothers of 408 Beaver Ave., custodian at Midland High School.

Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa are assisting in the investigation.

Mr. Smothers was born in Midland, a son of Ben Smothers of Midland and Mrs. Alnita Smothers Berry, also of Midland. He operated Freddie's Record Shop in Wellsville and was employed at the Midland Division of Crucible Steel, working last on Saturday. He was an Air Force veteran and was graduated in 1944 from Midland High School.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Bessie Boggs Smothers, and a daughter, Miss Alnita Smothers, both at home; a stepdaughter, Miss Charleene Simpson, Indianapolis, Ind.; two half-brothers, Henry Berry Jr. and Aaron Howard Berry, both of Midland; two half - sisters, Mrs. Henry (Henrietta) Kirby of Milwaukee and Miss Linda Darnell Berry of Midland.

Services will be held Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. Roger Kennedy of the First United Methodist Church in Wellsville. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery, Wellsville.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Tuesday afternoon and night.

Three School Districts May Close Shortly

Financial Crises Face Youngstown And Other Areas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three Ohio school districts will close down in the next two weeks because of financial crises. Four more say they may have to.

But in five of these seven school districts a change of heart by voters in special school tax levy votes next month could provide money to keep the schools open.

To some observers these threatened school closings appear to be aimed at assuring passage of the tax levies. But the issues were defeated two weeks ago despite warnings by most of the districts that schools would be closed if the levies lost.

Two of the districts can't ask voters for more money until after the first of the year, since they've already submitted their requests twice this year. A third try isn't allowed.

The largest district, Youngstown with 28,000 pupils, will close down Nov. 27 and remain closed until Jan. 8. Voters there turned down a 12-mill levy—$12 for each $1,000 assessed personal property value—on Nov. 5.

Graham local district in Montgomery County, near Dayton, saw a 19.1-mill combination renewal and new tax levy defeated Nov. 5 and also must wait until next year for another vote. Classes may be shut down, but it's believed the district instead will cut back its budget drastically.

Mr. Steele died from a crushed chest and multiple fractures.

Suspect Due Arraignment In Salem Woman's Killing

A 25-year-old suspect was scheduled for arraignment today in Florida on a murder charge in connection with the strangling of a 28-year-old Salem woman whose body was found Saturday night on a little-used road eight miles south of Daytona Beach, where she had been vacationing.

Reino Koski Jr. of Daytona Beach, a native of Muskegon, Mich., is charged with murder in the death of Miss Patricia Pozeynot of Damascus Rd., Salem, according to Sheriff Rodney Thursby of Volusia County, Florida.

Koski is due for arraignment in the Volusia County Court at DeLand.

Dr. Arthur Schwartzz, Volusia County medical examiner, said Miss Pozeynot had been strangled. She had been spending a week's vacation at a beachfront motel near the downtown area

Prospect Dim For Release Of Prisoners

PARIS (AP) — Despite the bombing halt and expectations that the Vietnam peace talks will resume soon, prospects do not appear bright for speedy release of American airmen held prisoner in North Vietnam.

Hundreds of U.S. flyers—a rough estimate used here is 400—were captured when their planes were shot down during the three years and nine months of U.S. air attacks ended by President Johnson's order Oct. 31.

2 Final Days Set In Pickup Of 'Box' Mail

Although operations moved over the weekend to the new post office on Dresden Ave., Postmaster Samuel Brown announced today that boxholders still can pick up mail from the former facility on Broadway today and Tuesday.

Brown said the doors will be open both days. After boxholders pick up their mail, old keys should be turned into Brown at the new post office. New keys then will be distributed.

Mrs. Richard Spahr of 1116 Perry Ave. was the last customer to be served in the old building when operations ceased there at noon Saturday after 60 years.

She came into the post office to mail a parcel post package to Rochester, Pa., about three minutes before noon. Mrs. Spahr pointed out the parcel post and stamp window at one time had been manned by her father-in-law, Richard Spahr, before he retired from the postal service.

William G. Howell was at the window Saturday.

Brown said moving operations are to be completed today.

Tri-State Will Face Wind, Cold And Snow

The weather outlook is not "so hot" so far as tri-state residents are concerned.

Tonight's low is to range from the upper 20s to the lower 30s.

Temperatures through Saturday will average below normal, with daily highs generally in the 30s and nighttime lows in the 20s. It will be cold and winterlike through the period.

For Top Cabinet Jobs

Aide Claims Preliminary Selections Made By Nixon

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon has his top advisers on a talent hunt, looking for men to serve in his Cabinet and seeking people for scores of other administration jobs.

He already has lists of potential Cabinet officers, and one top aide said Nixon has reached some preliminary, personal judgments on choices for those posts.

But the advisers also said that Nixon has chosen no one, even tentatively, at this point.

Nixon is known to have spent some time studying administration personnel prospects during his working vacation at this island resort.

But he is spending much of his time alone, considering the job problems and also working on initial drafts of the inaugural address he will deliver Jan. 20.

The Nixon talent hunt is proceeding on two levels. There are the top-level jobs to be filled in the Cabinet and just below. Two top advisers in that operation are John N. Mitchell, who was his campaign manager, and Leonard K. Garment. Both are partners in the Nixon law firm.

Byrnes Sees Continuation Of 10% Surtax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top Republican on the powerful House Ways and Means Committee says the 10 per cent income surtax will have to be continued unless there is a quick reduction of the Vietnam war.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin says, however, that if the shooting war should end in the next three months it might then be possible to abolish the tax, or perhaps cut it in half.

Richard M. Nixon said during his successful presidential campaign that the surtax was a "war tax" and should not be extended past its scheduled expiration date of June 30.

Ohio Historical Society Sees New Craze

Canals Eyed As Tourist Attraction

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Historical Society sees a new canal "craze" developing in Ohio.

More than 100 years ago Ohio nearly went bankrupt in providing 1,000 miles of canals at a cost of $16 million, before railroads doomed the hydraulic highways.

Now, the Society says, giant strides are being made to resurrect portions of both great canal systems: The Ohio and Erie from Cleveland to Portsmouth, and the Miami and Erie from Cincinnati to Toledo.

But instead of cheese, wheat, and manufacturing products, the reconditioned canals will transport quite different cargoes – tourists.

ON THE Ohio and Erie local efforts at Canal Fulton are recreating a canal boat to play a section of the canal including a restored lock. At a small park in the area, the Stark County Historical Society is purchasing land and making plans to build a canal museum.

At Coshocton, a million dollar plan has been prepared by the city and local civic groups, to restore a mile long canal section and float on it one or two canal packet boats, all part of a complete city park development replete with canal museum, band shell, and sports facilities. The famed triple lock of the Walhonding Canal in the area will be restored.

The Montgomery Foundation, with private owners, is in the process of restoring the canal town of Roscoe, now part of Coshocton, under a historic area zoning ordinance. Some 45 structures, including a canal warehouse, will be transformed into a living restoration. The warehouse will become a restaurant "with atmosphere."

INTERESTS in the Cleveland area are also exploring the use for tourist purposes of a section of the canal in southern Cuyahoga County, already declared a Registered National Historic Landmark by the U.S. Department of Interior.

Portions of the Buckeye Trail for hikers in northeastern Ohio are under development along Ohio and Erie towpaths; the Muskingum River slackwater system between Zanesville and Marietta, part of the original canal system, has been restored by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources for pleasure boating.

In western Ohio on the Miami and Erie Canal projects of equal scope are being undertaken; The Ohio Department of Highways is creating a $116,000 roadside park on the Auglaize - Allen County line, for Deep Cut—one of the most spectacular, hand - excavated canal projects ever undertaken. Deep Cut also is a registered national landmark.

At the Piqua Historical Area in northern Miami County, the Society has a $75,000 project to restore a mile - long section of the canal on which a canal boat will be towed by horses next summer.

A proposed Miami Conservancy District dam immediately threatens to inundate most of the famous Lockington Locks, second largest concentration of stone canal locks in the state.

Lock restoration projects are also planned in Butler County and along the old Wabash and Erie Canal in the Maumee Valley.

Fathers of the Ohio canals believed in 1825 when they turned the first spadefuls of earth that they were creating a transportation artery for all times.

Now, the Historical Society says, their prophecy, once considered shortsighted, is about to be vindicated, if only for tourist attractions.

2 New Committees Selected To Assist Historical Group

Two new committees have been named to assist in activities of the Mill Creek Valley Historical Association.

Clifford Smith, president, appointed Mrs. Martha Montgomery of Shippingport chairman of the personnel committee and Mrs. Marie McElhaney of Findlay Township and Mrs. Helen Smith of Harper Village co-chairmen of the Exhibit Committee.

THE PERSONNEL group will arrange a schedule for those in charge during the hours the association's Museum Room is open in the Library Building on the Beaver County Campus of Pennsylvania State University and to designate hosts or hostesses to receive groups visiting by special arrangement at other periods.

The Museum Room is open from 2 to 4 p.m. each Wednesday afternoon.

The Exhibit Committee will be responsible for planning periodic changes of exhibits and for devising a plan of cataloguing and tabulating items and their historical background and uses.

Mrs. Smith said three groups have been scheduled to visit the room during the next two weeks.

NAMED TO the nominating committee to present a slate for the election in December were Mrs. McElhaney, chairman, Donald Morgan of Hookstown and Roy Snyder of Greene Township.

Directors recently named include Mrs. Leona MacChesney of Raccoon Township, Arnold McMahan of Rochester, Alton Bonzo of New Brighton RD, Mrs. Gladys Hoover of Hanover Township, Mrs. McElhaney, Mrs. Ruth Shane and Judge James E. Rowley of Hopewell Township, Clyde Piquet of Ohioville and Smith of Harper Village.

Piquet, chairman of the Program Committee, announced that the next membership meeting will be held Jan. 29 in the Independence Elementary School on Route 151. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Devitt will be in charge of the program at 8 p.m., the second in a series of "Pioneer Nights" featuring the history of the Frankfort Springs area.

There are now 672 members. Those who have not renewed their membership may do so by sending dues to Mrs. Grace Wilson, RD 1, Box 329, Aliquippa.

The Financial Committee also will schedule a session to prepare the annual budget.

The next meeting of the directors will be Dec. 11 at 8 p.m. in their headquarters at the Daniel W. Wilson home in Raccoon Township.

Buys Rights To Play

NEW YORK (AP) — Motion picture rights to the Broadway musical "I Do! I Do!" have been acquired by the Mirisch Production Co., it was announced today. Harold J. Mirisch, president of the filmmaking organization, said Dick Van Dyke will star in the movie version, with Gower Champion, who directed the stage play, signed to direct the film. It starred Mary Martin and Robert Preston on Broadway.

Error Seen In Test Form For Sobriety

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans who lost their drivers licenses before Nov. 1 for refusing to submit to a chemical sobriety test may get their driving rights back because of a legal loophole.

Under a measure effective last Jan. 1, any driver who refuses to undergo the test automatically has his license suspended for six months.

But Columbus Municipal Court Judge William T. Gillie has upheld a motion filed on behalf of a suburban Columbus man that the Bureau of Motor Vehicles form is meaningless. The form consists of a statement to be read by the arresting officer to the person charged with drunken driving of the consequences of his refusal to take the test.

Counsel for Nicholas J. Pappas of Upper Arlington argued that the form did not contain a statement to be signed by the arresting officer and one witness. Judge Gillie ordered Pappas' license returned. Pappas was arrested in July and charged with drunken driving.

Early this month a revised form was issued which includes a statement to be signed by the officer and a witness that the warning had been read to the alleged offender.

But Pappas' counsel, Joseph Hans, said Saturday he is certain that the discrepancy makes every license suspension under the old form invalid.

Court officials here admit that anybody who petitions the court for return of his license under these circumstances probably will be successful.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

The Mail Goes Through

East Liverpool's new Post Office along Dresden Ave. officially went into business this morning, marking another advance in the community's development and a further modernization of the downtown area.

The new postal facility not only improves the handling of mail and offers, in general, greater patron convenience, it enhances the appearance of the Dresden Ave. area and has already stirred development of the business potential of that part of the city.

The old Broadway post office building, a familiar landmark in East Liverpool since 1909, may become a Pottery Museum to serve as a tourist attraction and a tribute to the longtime district industry and its craftsmen, also adding to the community's resources and growth.

Sale of the first stamp and acceptance of the first mail this morning at the new Post Office today represented the culmination of a long hoped-for goal, and the end of an arduous effort over five years to obtain funds, a site and a builder.

In view of some of the setbacks which dogged this project and others in the recent past, it seems persistence is a basic requirement for progress in our city. In this case, it earned success, and we are sure it will in all the others.

Another Side Of The War

The debate over negotiation and reports of battle action in Vietnam get all the big headlines but the small stories from that troubled country are just as disconcerting.

Bald-faced corruption, freely admitted, suffering in overcrowded refugee camps and complaints from American soldiers of animosity from South Vietnamese troops are all part of the overall picture.

A BIG PROBLEM for many areas of South Vietnam is economy-wrecking prosperity that comes with large concentrations of American troops.

Pleiku is one example. It was a placid mountain village of about 1,000 residents when the French-Indochina war ended in 1954.

Just three years ago it had a population of 12,000. Today U.S. servicemen and South Vietnamese soldiers and refugees have swelled the population to 70,000—not counting an estimated 8,000 prostitutes that follow the troops.

The drastic transformation of the city's economy is revealed in the upward thrust of retail prices. A two-bedroom that formerly rented for $40 a month now costs $240. A meal of meat, rice, soup and tea that used to cost 40 cents is priced at $2.

Inflationary prices are only one result of the tremendous influx of people into the city 230 miles northeast of Saigon. The crime rate has shot out of sight and slums are a growing blot on the landscape.

An American civilian working in Pleiku recalls pleasant walks under the pine trees that line the city's streets and adds: "The thought of taking a walk around here today would never occur to you."

THEY HAVE SEEN restaurants, food stores and carpenter shops become bars and brothels. They saw tin shacks spring up on farmland.

Salaries have increased threefold since 1965 but the cost of living has increased faster. Officials say almost everyone has to work two jobs just to keep even.

Who can estimate the full detrimental effect these conditions will have on Pleiku?

Back Yard Benefits?

Baker and others plan to file this week with the Pennsylvania Horse Racing Commission an application for one of four thoroughbred racing franchises due from the commission.

The noted engineer had previously sought a franchise for a track operation and recreation complex in northern Beaver County, but the project was abandoned when it was learned a liquor license could not be obtained because the site was in a dry territory.

So if Beaver Countians are not to hear "They're off!" with all that the economic and recreation pluses that sound brings, at least they may hear the echoes from the back yard.

What's New?

And still the marvels of science keep coming.

Reported now is the discovery of a suburban Detroit inventor who says he has developed a device that could replace the transistor. More than that, he claims it could lead to a television set as thin as a picture on the wall.

Provided the discovery works as well as its inventor claims, it could produce some significant changes in the fields of television, rocketry and computer research.

In support of the invention, Sir Neville Mott, director of the Cavendish Laboratory at Cambridge University in England, described the discovery as "the newest, the biggest, the most exciting discovery in solid-state physics at the moment."

Here is one answer to the oft-asked question: What will they think of next?

Letter To The Editor

This is a pat on the back for all the good people who on Nov. 8 at the St. Clair Plaza gave so generously to send fresh-cut Christmas trees to the GI's in the field and in the hospitals in Vietnam.

Three area families as they decorate and enjoy their own trees this Christmas season will have the satisfaction of knowing somewhere some young man, who is giving so much for our country, will also be enjoying a tree and knows "we do care."

We have packaged and mailed 61 trees with cards enclosed, saying "Merry Christmas from Ohio," from the East Liverpool area residents. More orders from area families for their sons and loved ones made a total of 69 trees.

I know first among all our prayers is the hope that next year we will have no young men in Vietnam or elsewhere to send trees to, and as the Christmas season grows near that there will truly be "peace on earth."

The East Liverpool Junior Women's Club sincerely expresses thanks for the warm way the community has accepted our project. Now may we be the first to wish all a very merry Christmas.

Pressure On Saigon

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — After five years of doing practically everything, the United States finally got Hanoi to come to the conference table. But the only trouble is that, although Hanoi has agreed to come to the conference table, Saigon is refusing to come. This leaves the United States in one bad spot, because it's always harder to deal with your friends than it is with your enemies.

Art Buchwald

The problem that everyone is working on now is, how do you get President Thieu to send someone to Paris?

My friend at the State Department has been working on this tricky problem for three weeks.

"There's a division of opinion on how to deal with South Vietnam," he said. "The hawks want to bomb Saigon."

"WHAT ON EARTH FOR?" I asked

"To save face for the South Vietnamese. If we bomb Saigon, then they can say they won't go to Paris until we stop the bombing. That's how we got the North Vietnamese to agree to talk, so there is no reason why it wouldn't work for the South."

"It makes sense. What's wrong with it?"

"The doves say if you bomb Saigon it will just strengthen the South Vietnamese determination to keep fighting the war. They maintain we've been bombing parts of South Vietnam for years now and it hasn't intimidated President Thieu or Vice President Ky. It's just made Saigon's position tougher."

"What does the Air Force say about that?"

"They say we've been bombing the wrong targets in South Vietnam. If they could bomb the port at Camranh Bay and the city of Hue, then they're sure Thieu would see the light. But since they've only been permitted to bomb selected targets below the DMZ and on the Ho Chi Minh Trail, there is no reason for Thieu and Ky to talk peace."

"THEN THE AMERICAN MILITARY are insisting on all-out victory in South Vietnam?" I asked.

"They say we shouldn't have gone into South Vietnam unless we wanted to win."

"Is there any other way of getting the South Vietnamese to come to the conference table?"

"We were considering closing up all the U.S. Army PXs in South Vietnam but that is a very drastic step and could turn world opinion against us. Without the black market, South Vietnam would not be able to survive."

"It's probably against the Geneva Convention," I said. "Are there any alternative suggestions?"

"We could threaten to de-escalate the war, but that has its drawbacks. If we de-escalated the war, then we'd be dealing with Hanoi from a position of weakness."

"It looks as if you're not in very good shape."

"I guess our mistake was assuring South Vietnam they could win the war. Now they believe it."

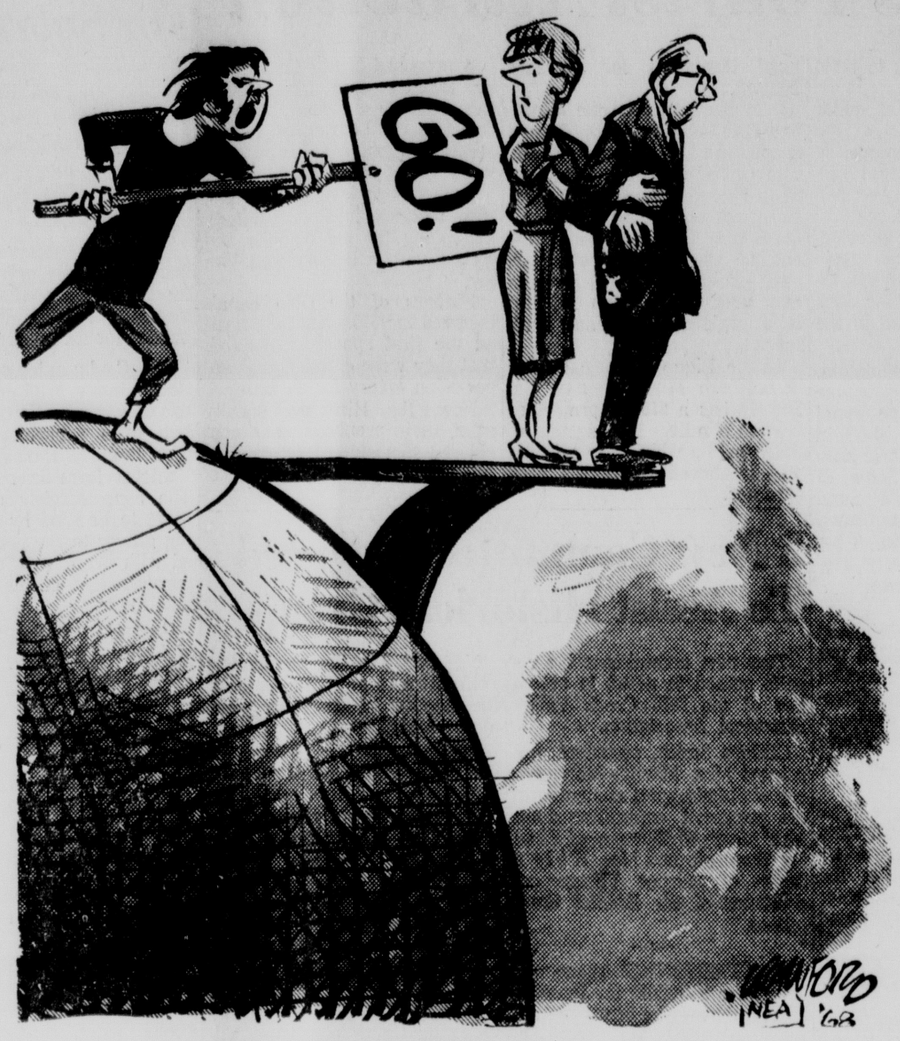

"COULDN'T YOU ASK Ho Chi Minh to intervene and use his good offices on our behalf?"

"We have, but he says it's not his problem. We got ourselves into the mess; he claims we have to get out of it."

"A lot of people are wondering why we agreed to the bombing halt when we weren't sure Saigon would come to the peace table."

"It was a calculated risk. We assumed that once Hanoi agreed to peace talks, the Thieu government would agree also. Now it looks as if Hanoi knew Saigon wouldn't, and that's why they did. It shows you what dirty negotiators the North Vietnamese really are."

'You Blew It!'

VICTOR RIESEL

Abel Faces Tough Struggle

PITTSBURGH — A bunch of the steel boys are raising Cain with "Abe" Abel, the silent man who leads the sprawling union headquartered in this Iron City.

Victor Riesel

And hereby begins the story of a campaign which few have noted and fewer will watch, though the result may shake up this nation almost as much as the Nixon-Humphrey-Wallace jousting did.

The presidency of the powerful and pivotal 1.2 million-member United Steelworkers of America is up for grabs now, in what will be the freest rank-and-file union balloting since the ancient workingmen's parties.

Some observers say that this union suffers from democracy. Everybody votes directly for the national officers. Just about four years ago more than 625,000 ballots were cast. President I. W. Abel defeated silver-haired Dave McDonald, a Nixon stalwart, by a narrow margin.

"Now "Abe" must defend the title. He'll have to run like an Olympic racer carrying a bag full of Civil War cannon balls. If he loses, then the balance of power inside labor may well shift to Walter Reuther; national politics will be shaken up; President Nixon will be badgered by a split labor movement, each side seeking power; and even international politics will be traumatized throughout the free world.

IF ABE ABEL WINS — then Walter Reuther may well have shouted his last hurrah, loud enough for anyone to hear above the rumble of Detroit's assembly lines.

Abe has a fine team. He's backed up by the lilting Irish eloquence of Vice President Joe Molony, and the quieter intellectualism of Secretary-Treasurer Walter Burke.

But that line is being hit hard by the 51-year old ex-college halfback and football coach, labor lawyer Emil E. Narick. As he plunges toward election day, Feb. 10, he'll have the open-handed friendship of Walter Reuther and the support of pipe-smoking ex-steel union president, Dave McDonald, fresh with the euphoria of Richard Nixon's campaign caravans.

It's an odd combination. But to each his own for their own reasons.

Walter Philip Reuther hates Iorwith Wilbur Abel because the latter was called up to replace the Detroit redhead when Reuther wheeled the auto union out of the AFL-CIO.

Abel now speaks for the old CIO (industrial) unions inside labor. Abel now has entry into the White House. Abel shuttles to international conferences in Geneva and Brussels to talk for American labor and sits in Reuther's chair. And Abel headed the National Labor Committee for Humphrey-Muskie which almost took the country for the vice president.

AND SO WE FIND the challenger, Emil Narick, vice president of a small steel local, reflecting Reuther's distaste. Mr. Narick said the other day, that if elected he would "review" the steel workers affiliation with the giant AFL-CIO and certainly join the auto union-teamster Alliance for Labor Action.

If this happens, Mr. Reuther will lead a mighty force — 1.9 million teamsters; 1.6 million auto makers; and 1.2 million steel workers. Throw in a few independent unions and "Walter" could speak for five million unionists — if his clan wins.

If Emil Narick loses, then there is no labor alliance. At the moment, the Teamsters' national magazine barely mentions the new crusade. And the oil workers, the chemical workres, the rubber workers, et al., give the Alliance little more than a friendly pat on the back — just enough of a pat to avoid hurting anyone's feelings.

Will Mr. Abel win? He's the incumbent. But that's a handicap these days. In his industry he must run like a president seeking re-election during a national depression. His rank and file was so red-hot for a strike earlier this year that most big companies stocked up.

A GOOD DEAL OF the steel inventory came in from Japan and Western Europe. So, when the contract was signed, everybody had enough steel to build that stairway to the moon without astronauts. Workers were laid off.

But that did not stop a record deluge of imports. Now, there are 60,000 fewer jobs than in June. And the average work week has been forced down from 39.2 hours to 33.4 hours. Scores of thousands are jobless. Hundreds of thousands work a short week. They are restless and resentful.

Furthermore, Abe Abel put the big union on the line for Hubert Humphrey. There are Wallaceites aplenty in the union. And a considerable Nixon bloc because of Dave McDonald.

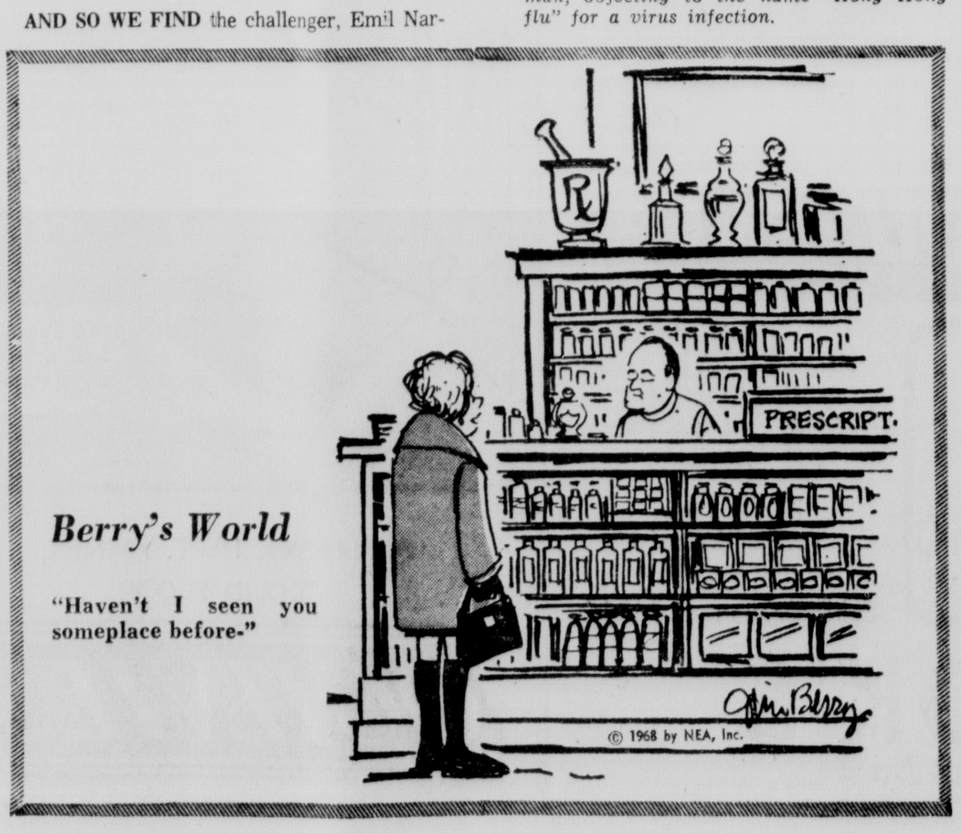

So Abe could lose, though he did win the best pact ever for his people — an average of 51 cents an hour increase over the contract period.

Restlessness stalks the land. If Mr. Abel is defeated, other national labor leaders may get a dose of the domino theory. Opposition movements, well subsidized, will flare like overheated magnesium — fast and glaring across the land.

Saigon Needs Assurances

The differences of opinion that have unfortunately arisen between the South Vietnam government and the United States government have precipitated a dangerous situation.

The problem is not merely who shall sit at the negotiating table in Paris. The real issue is whether, if the United States eventually agrees to withdraw its forces, South Vietnam, as an independent government which now has in the field more than a million troops, will be able by itself to ward off the attempted conquest initiated by the Communist regime in Hanoi.

FOR A LONG TIME the argument was centered on the idea of a bombing halt. The assumption was that this alone would bring about meaningful negotiations.

But the evidence now is that, while the bombing of North Vietnam has been stopped, the Communists have not abated their attacks on South Vietnam. Violations of the agreement previously reached are openly condemned by American officials.

The North Vietnamese, however, apparently feel that the friction which has arisen between the Saigon government and the United States indicates that the latter is about ready to forsake its ally.

The truth is the American government has been trying to get negotiations going. It has hoped that technicalities about how the different factions should be seated at the negotiating table would not be allowed to prevent productive talks that could lead to peace.

But there are signs now that the North Vietnamese are taking advantage of the debate being waged between the president of South Vietnam and the American government, and are rejoicing over the nature of the dispute while at the same time biding their time and making no effort to stop the fighting or to begin peace talks of a substantive nature.

The South Vietnam government, through its embassy in Washington, has stated flatly that it never agreed to a four-sided peace conference. Indications are that the president of South Vietnam is anxious to satisfy public opinion in his own country and it has become a matter of pride with the South Vietnamese people.

They don't want their representatives to sit down with envoys of the Viet Cong — the Communist faction spread throughout South Vietnam but supported by and operating under the authority of the Hanoi government.

Spokesmen for the American government have naturally expressed regret that South Vietnam has not joined in the peace talks. But it is becoming more and more apparent that the Saigon government is disappointed with the position taken by the United States in recent days.

Some dramatic assurance needs to be given that Washington and Saigon are standing together as allies and that the people of the South will not in any way be betrayed by agreements reached at the peace conference.

It is not easy for Americans sometimes to understand the sensitivity of foreign peoples. It looks as if some of the statements recently made in America criticizing Saigon's attitude in refusing to attend the peace negotiations with the Viet Cong as an equal have produced a feeling of dismay and protest in South Vietnam.

Meanwhile, the negotiations themselves are dragging on without any useful talks. Officials here may have thought South Vietnam would be compelled to join in the Paris conferences because of a fear that American military assistance might be withdrawn.

BUT WHILE THE AID of the United States is deeply appreciated in South Vietnam, the people there resent anything which could possibly lead to a takeover of their country by North Vietnam through an ambiguous set of declarations called a "peace agreement."

In such a contingency, the American government would have accomplished little by its military operations in Vietnam, and thousands of Americans would have sacrificed their lives for a cause which was proclaimed as a great ideal — namely, self-determination — but which might turn out to be a lost cause.

The chances are that, after a few days more of bickering in Paris and through diplomatic channels, the United States will be proclaiming again in unequivocal terms its pledge to assure the independence of South Vietnam and the right of its people to determine their own form of government.

The Mail Goes Through

East Liverpool's new Post Office along Dresden Ave. officially went into business this morning, marking another advance in the community's development and a further modernization of the downtown area.

The new postal facility not only improves the handling of mail and offers, in general, greater patron convenience, it enhances the appearance of the Dresden Ave. area and has already stirred development of the business potential of that part of the city.

The old Broadway post office building, a familiar landmark in East Liverpool since 1909, may become a Pottery Museum to serve as a tourist attraction and a tribute to the longtime district industry and its craftsmen, also adding to the community's resources and growth.

Sale of the first stamp and acceptance of the first mail this morning at the new Post Office today represented the culmination of a long hoped-for goal, and the end of an arduous effort over five years to obtain funds, a site and a builder.

In view of some of the setbacks which dogged this project and others in the recent past, it seems persistence is a basic requirement for progress in our city. In this case, it earned success, and we are sure it will in all the others.

Another Side Of The War

The debate over negotiation and reports of battle action in Vietnam get all the big headlines but the small stories from that troubled country are just as disconcerting.

A BIG PROBLEM for many areas of South Vietnam is economy-wrecking prosperity that comes with large concentrations of American troops.

Pleiku is one example. It was a placid mountain village of about 1,000 residents when the French-Indochina war ended in 1954.

Just three years ago it had a population of 12,000. Today U.S. servicemen and South Vietnamese soldiers and refugees have swelled the population to 70,000—not counting an estimated 8,000 prostitutes that follow the troops.

The drastic transformation of the city's economy is revealed in the upward thrust of retail prices. A two-bedroom that formerly rented for $40 a month now costs $240. A meal of meat, rice, soup and tea that used to cost 40 cents is priced at $2.

Inflationary prices are only one result of the tremendous influx of people into the city 230 miles northeast of Saigon. The crime rate has shot out of sight and slums are a growing blot on the landscape.

An American civilian working in Pleiku recalls pleasant walks under the pine trees that line the city's streets and adds: "The thought of taking a walk around here today would never occur to you."

THEY HAVE SEEN restaurants, food stores and carpenter shops become bars and brothels. They saw tin shacks spring up on farmland.

Salaries have increased threefold since 1965 but the cost of living has increased faster. Officials say almost everyone has to work two jobs just to keep even.

Who can estimate the full detrimental effect these conditions will have on Pleiku?

Back Yard Benefits?

Baker and others plan to file this week with the Pennsylvania Horse Racing Commission an application for one of four thoroughbred racing franchises due from the commission.

The noted engineer had previously sought a franchise for a track operation and recreation complex in northern Beaver County, but the project was abandoned when it was learned a liquor license could not be obtained because the site was in a dry territory.

So if Beaver Countians are not to hear "They're off!" with all that the economic and recreation pluses that sound brings, at least they may hear the echoes from the back yard.

What's New?

And still the marvels of science keep coming.

Reported now is the discovery of a suburban Detroit inventor who says he has developed a device that could replace the transistor. More than that, he claims it could lead to a television set as thin as a picture on the wall.

Provided the discovery works as well as its inventor claims, it could produce some significant changes in the fields of television, rocketry and computer research.

In support of the invention, Sir Neville Mott, director of the Cavendish Laboratory at Cambridge University in England, described the discovery as "the newest, the biggest, the most exciting discovery in solid-state physics at the moment."

Here is one answer to the oft-asked question: What will they think of next?

Letter To The Editor

This is a pat on the back for all the good people who on Nov. 8 at the St. Clair Plaza gave so generously to send fresh-cut Christmas trees to the GI's in the field and in the hospitals in Vietnam.

Three area families as they decorate and enjoy their own trees this Christmas season will have the satisfaction of knowing somewhere some young man, who is giving so much for our country, will also be enjoying a tree and knows "we do care."

We have packaged and mailed 61 trees with cards enclosed, saying "Merry Christmas from Ohio," from the East Liverpool area residents.

More orders from area families for their sons and loved ones made a total of 69 trees.

I know first among all our prayers is the hope that next year we will have no young men in Vietnam or elsewhere to send trees to, and as the Christmas season grows near that there will truly be "peace on earth."

The East Liverpool Junior Women's Club sincerely expresses thanks for the warm way the community has accepted our project. Now may we be the first to wish all a very merry Christmas.

Pressure On Saigon

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — After five years of doing practically everything, the United States finally got Hanoi to come to the conference table. But the only trouble is that, although Hanoi has agreed to come to the conference table, Saigon is refusing to come. This leaves the United States in one bad spot, because it's always harder to deal with your friends than it is with your enemies.

Art Buchwald

The problem that everyone is working on now is, how do you get President Thieu to send someone to Paris?

My friend at the State Department has been working on this tricky problem for three weeks.

"There's a division of opinion on how to deal with South Vietnam," he said. "The hawks want to bomb Saigon."

"WHAT ON EARTH FOR?" I asked

"To save face for the South Vietnamese. If we bomb Saigon, then they can say they won't go to Paris until we stop the bombing. That's how we got the North Vietnamese to agree to talk, so there is no reason why it wouldn't work for the South."

"It makes sense. What's wrong with it?"

"The doves say if you bomb Saigon it will just strengthen the South Vietnamese determination to keep fighting the war. They maintain we've been bombing parts of South Vietnam for years now and it hasn't intimidated President Thieu or Vice President Ky. It's just made Saigon's position tougher."

"What does the Air Force say about that?"

"They say we've been bombing the wrong targets in South Vietnam. If they could bomb the port at Camranh Bay and the city of Hue, then they're sure Thieu would see the light. But since they've only been permitted to bomb selected targets below the DMZ and on the Ho Chi Minh Trail, there is no reason for Thieu and Ky to talk peace."

"THEN THE AMERICAN MILITARY are insisting on all-out victory in South Vietnam?" I asked.

"They say we shouldn't have gone into South Vietnam unless we wanted to win."

"Is there any other way of getting the South Vietnamese to come to the conference table?"

"We were considering closing up all the U.S. Army PXs in South Vietnam but that is a very drastic step and could turn world opinion against us. Without the black market, South Vietnam would not be able to survive."

"It's probably against the Geneva Convention," I said. "Are there any alternative suggestions?"

"We could threaten to de-escalate the war, but that has its drawbacks. If we de-escalated the war, then we'd be dealing with Hanoi from a position of weakness."

"It looks as if you're not in very good shape."

"I guess our mistake was assuring South Vietnam they could win the war. Now they believe it."

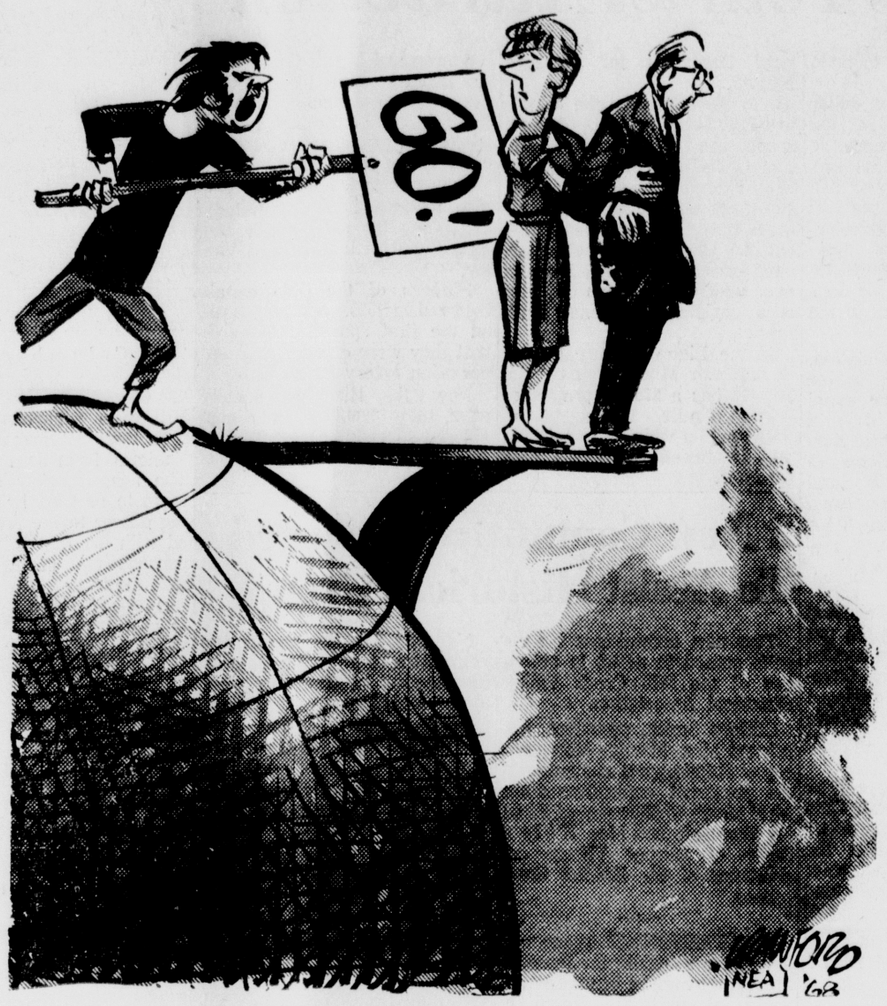

"COULDN'T YOU ASK Ho Chi Minh to intervene and use his good offices on our behalf?"

"We have, but he says it's not his problem. We got ourselves into the mess; he claims we have to get out of it."

"A lot of people are wondering why we agreed to the bombing halt when we weren't sure Saigon would come to the peace table."

"It was a calculated risk. We assumed that once Hanoi agreed to peace talks, the Thieu government would agree also. Now it looks as if Hanoi knew Saigon wouldn't, and that's why they did. It shows you what dirty negotiators the North Vietnamese really are."

'You Blew It!'

Abel Faces Tough Struggle

PITTSBURGH — A bunch of the steel boys are raising Cain with "Abe" Abel, the silent man who leads the sprawling union headquartered in this Iron City.

Victor Riesel

And hereby begins the story of a campaign which few have noted and fewer will watch, though the result may shake up this nation almost as much as the Nixon-Humphrey-Wallace jousting did.

The presidency of the powerful and pivotal 1.2 million-member United Steelworkers of America is up for grabs now, in what will be the freest rank-and-file union balloting since the ancient workingmen's parties.

Some observers say that this union suffers from democracy. Everybody votes directly for the national officers. Just about four years ago more than 625,000 ballots were cast. President I. W. Abel defeated silver-haired Dave McDonald, a Nixon stalwart, by a narrow margin.

"Now "Abe" must defend the title. He'll have to run like an Olympic racer carrying a bag full of Civil War cannon balls. If he loses, then the balance of power inside labor may well shift to Walter Reuther; national politics will be shaken up; President Nixon will be badgered by a split labor movement, each side seeking power; and even international politics will be traumatized throughout the free world.

IF ABE ABEL WINS — then Walter Reuther may well have shouted his last hurrah, loud enough for anyone to hear above the rumble of Detroit's assembly lines.

Abe has a fine team. He's backed up by the lilting Irish eloquence of Vice President Joe Molony, and the quieter intellectualism of Secretary-Treasurer Walter Burke.

But that line is being hit hard by the 51-year old ex-college halfback and football coach, labor lawyer Emil E. Narick. As he plunges toward election day, Feb. 10, he'll have the open-handed friendship of Walter Reuther and the support of pipe-smoking ex-steel union president, Dave McDonald, fresh with the euphoria of Richard Nixon's campaign caravans.

Abel shuttles to international conferences in Geneva and Brussels to talk for American labor and sits in Reuther's chair. And Abel headed the National Labor Committee for Humphrey-Muskie which almost took the country for the vice president.

AND SO WE FIND the challenger, Emil Narick, vice president of a small steel local, reflecting Reuther's distaste. Mr. Narick said the other day, that if elected he would "review" the steel workers affiliation with the giant AFL-CIO and certainly join the auto union-teamster Alliance for Labor Action.

Will Mr. Abel win? He's the incumbent. But that's a handicap these days. In his industry he must run like a president seeking re-election during a national depression. His rank and file was so red-hot for a strike earlier this year that most big companies stocked up.

A GOOD DEAL OF the steel inventory came in from Japan and Western Europe. So, when the contract was signed, everybody had enough steel to build that stairway to the moon without astronauts. Workers were laid off.

Restlessness stalks the land. If Mr. Abel is defeated, other national labor leaders may get a dose of the domino theory. Opposition movements, well subsidized, will flare like overheated magnesium — fast and glaring across the land.

'Monster' Speeds Work On Housing Project Here

then dumped into hoppers to be lifted to the forms by the crane. Forty men are on the job at present.

The self - climbing crane, produced in France, will grow in height as the building rises. Sections can be added to the base as the building grows higher. The crane's base can be extended to a maximum height of 136 feet, 6 inches — or 40 feet above the top of the roof of the high-rise.

THE 11-STORY apartment building will be 96 feet tall, topped by a so - called "penthouse" 14 feet, 6 inches tall that will be used to house elevator machinery and related items.

At the present stage, the crane's base stands at about one third of its maximum height. It is powered by electric motors, the most powerful of which develops 35 horsepower. Free - standing, it has its base on a concrete pad 17 inches thick. The boom extends far to the rear of the operator's cab. Counterweights at the shorter end help offset the pull exerted by the lifting on the "business" end.

Porter said the self - climbing crane is particularly useful in erecting tall buildings in confined areas, such as the center of a metropolis. In the East Liverpool project, the crane has its base outside the perimeter of the building. But it is designed so that it can be erected in the elevator shaft space of a building under construction and rise steadily to keep pace with the progress on the job.

WHEN THE work is complete, the crane can be dismantled inside the shaft and hauled away.

Although the model in use in East Liverpool was made in France, the crane may have been a German development. The work force knows that the crane in use here came from France because some of the instruction panels in the cab are printed in French.

One of the last steps in the project will be landscaping and planting of trees and shrubs. Two shuffleboard courts will be built as part of the recreation facilities. The first floor of the structure will have a community room, including a kitchen, at one end. The main entrance will face toward Moore St.

The housing authority opened bids on the project July 23. The Youngstown firm's bid was the lowest of four. The housing authority recommended it to the Chicago regional office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, which previously had approved a federally - guaranteed loan for the project. Work began a few weeks later.

DOZENS OF applications already have been received for the apartment units. The authority set the admission requirements, as well as other policies and rules, at a meeting in August.

It said rentals will be open to single persons with a maximum income of $2,600 or couples with annual income of $3,600, including such items as Social Security, part-time work, dividends, interest on investments and other resources.

Work also is slated to begin very soon on another 130-unit development off Maine Blvd. to provide housing for low - income families. It will be built as a "turnkey project" for the housing authority by the developer, Housing Associates, Inc., of Columbus, and the contractor, Fountain Circle Builders of Dayton.

In contrast to the tall structure in West End, the Maine Blvd. project will be comprised of circular clusters of two-story dwellings centered around fountains and lawns.

'Monster' Speeds Work On Housing Project Here

then dumped into hoppers to be lifted to the forms by the crane. Forty men are on the job at present.

The self - climbing crane, produced in France, will grow in height as the building rises. Sections can be added to the base as the building grows higher. The crane's base can be extended to a maximum height of 136 feet, 6 inches — or 40 feet above the top of the roof of the high-rise.

THE 11-STORY apartment building will be 96 feet tall, topped by a so - called "penthouse" 14 feet, 6 inches tall that will be used to house elevator machinery and related items.

At the present stage, the crane's base stands at about one third of its maximum height. It is powered by electric motors, the most powerful of which develops 35 horsepower. Free - standing, it has its base on a concrete pad 17 inches thick. The boom extends far to the rear of the operator's cab. Counterweights at the shorter end help offset the pull exerted by the lifting on the "business" end.

Porter said the self - climbing crane is particularly useful in erecting tall buildings in confined areas, such as the center of a metropolis. In the East Liverpool project, the crane has its base outside the perimeter of the building. But it is designed so that it can be erected in the elevator shaft space of a building under construction and rise steadily to keep pace with the progress on the job.

WHEN THE work is complete, the crane can be dismantled inside the shaft and hauled away.

Although the model in use in East Liverpool was made in France, the crane may have been a German development. The work force knows that the crane in use here came from France because some of the instruction panels in the cab are printed in French.

One of the last steps in the project will be landscaping and planting of trees and shrubs. Two shuffleboard courts will be built as part of the recreation facilities. The first floor of the structure will have a community room, including a kitchen, at one end. The main entrance will face toward Moore St.

The housing authority opened bids on the project July 23. The Youngstown firm's bid was the lowest of four. The housing authority recommended it to the Chicago regional office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, which previously had approved a federally - guaranteed loan for the project. Work began a few weeks later.

DOZENS OF applications already have been received for the apartment units. The authority set the admission requirements, as well as other policies and rules, at a meeting in August.

It said rentals will be open to single persons with a maximum income of $2,600 or couples with annual income of $3,600, including such items as Social Security, part-time work, dividends, interest on investments and other resources.

Work also is slated to begin very soon on another 130-unit development off Maine Blvd. to provide housing for low - income families. It will be built as a "turnkey project" for the housing authority by the developer, Housing Associates, Inc., of Columbus, and the contractor, Fountain Circle Builders of Dayton.

In contrast to the tall structure in West End, the Maine Blvd. project will be comprised of circular clusters of two-story dwellings centered around fountains and lawns.

Thrifty Whisky

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — The whisky makers of Scotland probably have nothing to worry about, but South African whisky a blend of malt whisky and cane and wine spirits costs much less than Scotch. This thrifty note was struck by the distiller who said South Africa whisky introduced about two years ago is selling so well that a new plant is planned for Rhodesia.

Today, more people than ever are planning ahead. In such matters as insurance, wills, property and investments, families know the importance of looking into the future today.

That is why many families discuss funeral arrangements in advance. Planning ahead and recording your preferences can be a helpful guide.

Snow Blowers Will Do The Trick

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Kids and skiers love it. But for the average home owner, snow means drudgery.

Power - driven snow removal equipment has been taking much of the backache out of the job in recent years. Snow shovels are starting to go the way of the non-powered lawn mower.

Snow throwers (or blowers) are now available in all shapes and sizes and in a wide variety of prices.

IN THE past few years designs have been improved to make the equipment easier to use and more dependable.

Winterized engines have taken care of most of the starting problems. On some units you can add an electric starter, allowing you to ignore low temperatures altogether.

There are blowers that are available as accessory units on the front of a power unit. Consider this sort of setup if you are interested in other accessories for mowing, plowing, cultivating, etc.

Big advantage of the snow blower over the older snow plow is that instead of just pushing the snow aside, it lofts the snow 20 to 30 feet away.

The snow is thrown to either side of the machine. Since wind direction can affect this feature, make certain the unit you buy has an adjustable discharge chute so that you can vary direction and angle.

AS YOU go through the dozens of units available at your dealer's you will encounter certain features that may or may not interest you, terms that may not be clear.

The smaller and lighter units are generally referred to as single-stage. The spiral auger or fan which picks up the snow and chews it up also tosses it out.

In a two-stage unit there is another fan or impeller that tosses the snow after the first blade has picked it up. This is a feature of the larger and heavier machines.

Major breakdown of snow blowers will be in the two categories of push-type or self - propelled.

In the first, you provide the push while the unit throws the snow. In the second, power is supplied to the wheels so that you just guide it.

Simplest of the push types is the small power shovel, handy for cleaning the sidewalk and a short driveway.

HOW BIG a unit depends on how much snow you have to remove. A long, wide drive and lots of sidewalk will require a heavy unit. Make certain you have room to store the size unit you buy.

If the unit is self - propelled, consider one that you can reverse. It will be a lot easier than pulling it out of a drift. There should be a separate clutch so that you can eliminate power to the wheels while the blades keep going or the other way around.

See that all controls are easily accessible. Will you be able to handle them in cold weather with gloves on? Shop around. Compare features and quality. Consider the importance of obtaining parts and service.

Sacred Cod Returned To Its Place Of Honor

BOSTON (AP) — The Massachusetts "Sacred Cod" is back in its place of honor in the State House after a three day disappearance, and Capitol police say the Fish never left the building.

The five-foot replica of a codfish, revered as a symbol of the state's early wealth, was reported missing Thursday from the House chamber, where it has hung over the clock since 1794.

Capitol Police Chief Paul Doherty said officers found the fish behind a door in the House chamber. Police believed the fish was taken down by pranksters, as happened in 1933.

Guidelines Are Flexible In 'World Of Finishing'

By ANDY LANG

The newcomer who ventures into the intriguing world of clear wood finishing quickly discovers that the guidelines are flexible indeed.

Having already decided that he wishes to preserve and enhance the natural characteristics of wood, he finds that there not only is a wide variety of types of finishes, but a large number of choices within each group.

Even more confusing are the seemingly countless techniques of application, with both experts and amateurs offering sure-fire procedures for successful results.

THE STATE of bewilderment will dissolve quickly if he decides at the onset that every finish has something to recommend it and that it's all a matter of personal preference.

The same goes, of course, for favorite mixtures of different products and methods of application. What remains, then, is the matter of experimenting to discover which materials and procedures best suit the tyro's own needs and preferences.

Before very long, he, too, will be strongly advocating certain kinds of finishes and application systems, thus inferentially placing himself into the expert category.

There are certain basic types of clear wood finishes, the best-known being varnish, shellac, lacquer and the penetrants, the latter having the characteristic of sinking into the wood rather than remaining on the surface.

Included among the many other finishes are synthetics, each brand of which says that its own chemical formulations give it superior qualities, especially in the area of durability.

Varnishes generally are resistant to water, heat, alcohol and most other liquids; are reasonably easy to use but must be applied in a nearly dust - free atmosphere; mostly are glossy but can be obtained in duller finishes, and are thinned with turpentine or mineral spirits.

SHELLACS are very easy to apply; dry fast; can be touched up quickly; require waxing to prevent stains from liquids; must not be applied during a period of high humidity, and are thinned with denatured alcohol.

Lacquers produce a high gloss; are durable and resistant to liquids; dry even faster than shellacs; usually are sprayed on but can be applied with a brush, especially to small surfaces; and are thinned with a lacquer thinner.

Penetrating finishes actually are sealers; usually must be waxed to provide protection against wear; are very easy to touch up without the appearance of patching, and require very little skill for application.

Oil finishes, such as linseed oil and or turpentine, provide a mellow look but must be rubbed in thoroughly and at least once or twice a year.

Aluminum Paint Tips Are Offered

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We have an old barn on our property. I'd like to apply aluminum paint to the roof, which has wood shingles on it. Is there any special kind I should get or will ordinary aluminum paint be okay?

Answer: There are many varieties of aluminum paint. Be sure you get the kind that is meant for exterior use — and be sure it is for use on wood. Some aluminum paints are designed for use on metal and masonry, while others are only for indoor application.

Incidentally, while aluminum paint for use on exterior wood usually comes in a silvery color, some dealers carry it in other colors.

QUESTION: I have a vinyl asbestos tile floor in one of our rooms. It is still in good condition, but my wife is redecorating with an entirely different color scheme and wants me to put down an embossed tile that fits in better with the new decor. Can you tell me how to remove old tile

Answer: You didn't say what kind of new tile you are getting. Check to see whether it can be placed right over the old tile which, as you indicate, is solidly attached to the floor.

But if you do decide to go ahead with the removal job, make up your mind that it isn't a simple task.

There are three basic methods. Probably the most common is by applying just enough heat with a propane torch to soften the adhesive underneath and loosen the tile. This, of course, requires some knowledge in the handling of a propane torch and, above all, extreme care.

A second method, just the opposite, calls for hardening the adhesive and then chipping out the tiles with a hammer. Make a wood frame 27-by-27 inches and fill it with dry ice. Place the ice-filled frame on the tile and leave it there three or four minutes. Chip out the tile, then move the frame and repeat as many times as needed to complete the removal operation.

The third method requires the most elbow grease. It should not be used for loosening tile cemented to wooden subfloors. Buy or rent a tile scraper. It consists of a blade on a long handle, plus a 10-pound weight. Your dealer will show you how to use it.

Fact Over Fiction

NEW YORK — If publishers' lists are an accurate gauge, Americans prefer fact to fiction 9 to 1. Of the 28,000 book titles published in the United States last year, only 3,000 were fiction.

A second method, just the opposite, calls for hardening the adhesive and then chipping out the tiles with a hammer. Make a wood frame 27-by-27 inches and fill it with dry ice. Place the ice-filled frame on the tile and leave it there three or four minutes. Chip out the tile, then move the frame and repeat as many times as needed to complete the removal operation.

The third method requires the most elbow grease. It should not be used for loosening tile cemented to wooden subfloors. Buy or rent a tile scraper. It consists of a blade on a long handle, plus a 10-pound weight. Your dealer will show you how to use it.

Fact Over Fiction

NEW YORK — If publishers' lists are an accurate gauge, Americans prefer fact to fiction 9 to 1. Of the 28,000 book titles published in the United States last year, only 3,000 were fiction.

ROTC Colonel Speaks During Legion's Event

Col. Stanley G. Brugh of the East Liverpool ROTC was guest speaker for the Columbiana County Council of the American Legion Friday night at Glenmoor Post 736.

He explained the purpose of ROTC is to establish a foundation for leadership ability and to develop better citizenship. Members of the Junior ROTC are under no commitment to military duty, he added.

Walter L. McCoy of Columbiana Post 290 reminded members that all veterans and widows receiving non - service pensions received their annual income questionnaire card with their checks on Nov. 1. He said these cards must be filled out and returned to the respective computer center by next Jan. 15.

MCCOY also explained H. R. 16025 signed into law by President Johnson. He said the law authorizes educational assistance to widows of deceased veterans who died of a service-connected disability and to wives of veterans who are permanently and totally disabled from service - connected disability. They receive $130 per month for full - time training for a maximum of 36 months, McCoy said.

He said the law authorizes that the eligible veteran is now entitled to 1½ months of training for each month of service up to a maximum of 36 months. It also authorizes that any eligible veteran who has served 18 months or more after Jan. 31, 1955, and has been released under conditions which would satisfy his active duty obligation, is entitled to a maximum educational assistance of 36 months.

McCoy, a service officer in the county soldiers' relief office, urged every Vietnam veteran to contact a veterans' organization service officer or the county service officer within six months of discharge so they will not lose benefits for which they are eligible.

THE COUNTY council has 1,908 members signed to date compared with a quota of 2,776, it was reported by Ray Cunningham of East Liverpool Post 4, County first vice commander.

Council approved a suggestion by Densel McKinney of Post 374, county activities chairman, that council hold a $1 gift exchange at the next meeting Dec. 13 at North Georgetown Post 574. Wives and Auxiliary members will be guests.

John Zundel of East Palestine Post 31, county chairman for "Gifts For Yanks Who Gave," reported donations of $593. He said this program provides canteen books and Christmas gifts for veterans in VA hospitals, cigarettes and gifts for veterans in the soldiers' home at Sandusky and cigarettes for veterans in state mental hospitals.

Poynter announced the district winter conference will be Jan. 11-12 at Massillon Post 221, with Roger Smith, second vice commander of the Department of Ohio, the speaker. The district bowling tournament will be held Jan. 18 at Arrowhead Lanes, Columbiana.

Swearingen reported on the Legion's 50th anniversary dinner at the Ohio State Fairgrounds. He said 1,600 veterans attended.

Summers discussed membership and stressed the need for Legion posts to work together to promote a better America.

Thieves Loot 2 City Homes

Thieves looted two East Liverpool homes over the weekend, but loss apparently was minor, police reported.

Mrs. Gloria Halfhill of 662 St. Clair Ave. told officers Sunday night at 11 an intruder took $20 from a locked tackle box on a dresser in her bedroom between 5 p.m. Saturday and 8:30 p.m. yesterday. She said the theft probably occurred while she was absent Sunday afternoon.

Miss Geraldine Bentz of 1064 Jennings Ave. told officers Sunday afttrnoon a thief carried away a crockery piggy bank containing a small amount of change and also took change from atop a dresser in the bedroom of her brother, Forrest Bentz.

The bank was taken from atop a television set in the dining room. The thief apparently shaved away the wood near a lock on a wooden storm door to gain entry, officers said.

An entry at Westgate Junior High School was discovered at 2:05 a. m. today by Patrolman Bruce L. Conkle while on routine patrol.

The officer found a 32-by-36-inch window broken on the south side of the building. Investigation showed the intruder had ransacked desks in Room 104, but it was not determined immediately if anything was missing. A check of the building showed no attempt to enter any of the other rooms, which were locked. The entry occurred after 1 p. m. Saturday, police said.

Officers also reported five cases of vandalism, four of them involving autos parked in the same neighborhood on E. 9th St.

Radio antennas were broken off five parked vehicles in the area in the brief interval between 6:55 and 7:43 p. m. yesterday, officers said.

The damaged vehicles were: A pickup truck owned by Jim Moffett of Negley RD 1; a 1967 car and a 1965 auto owned by Kenneth Matheny of 319 E. 9th St.; 1960 auto owned by Gary Casto of Irondale RD 1 and a 1967 model auto owned by J. A. Marshall of 326 E. 9th St.

Meanwhile, a vandal hurled a stone through a 22-by-57-inch window at the Miller Pump and Supply Co. building on the River Rd. Lt. Paul A. Burson discovered the damage at 2:45 a.m. Sunday.

'In God We Trust' On Nuns' Automobile

CHINOOK, Mont. (AP) — Four nuns were seen driving along in a car near the Canadian border area called the Hi-Line.

As the vehicle went along its way there could be no finer display of proper driving; it was the epitome of highway safety.

But, almost unnoticed on the rear of the car was a little sign that said, "In God We Trust."

Alma Mater Stripped By Former Students

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — More than 5,000 Classical High School alumni stripped their alma mater of desks, chairs, lights and clocks Sunday. They left requests for things they couldn't take with them.

School officials had expected only about 500 persons to collect souvenirs from the building, which is to be torn down.

One youngster set off the alarm when he attempted to rip a fire alarm box off a wall. Firemen responded and remained at the school for the last few hours of the event as a precaution.

Two Of Local Toastmasters Rank High In District Event

Two members of the East Liverpool Toastmasters Club placed high in competition during the annual District 13 meeting Saturday at the Holiday Inn in Harmarville, near Pittsburgh.

Francis J. House, representing Area 12, was runnerup in the evaluation contest in the Southern Division and Joseph Kriss was runnerup in the table topics event in the same division. They finished behind two Pittsburgh men. The local entrants received pen desk sets as prizes.

Disirict 13 is comprised of more than 50 clubs in eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania, northern West Virginia and a small part of Maryland. The district is divided into 12 areas for the contests.

The business meeting was conducted by Gene Friedline of Indiana, Pa., District 13 governor. Reports were heard from Charles Kramer, lieutenant governor, who conducted the educational session in the afternoon, and various district officers.

Dinner was served to more than 100 at 6:30 p.m.

Over-all winners in the district contests were: Gerald Hogan of College Park, Pa., in evaluation, and Robert Williamson of Pittsburgh in table topics.

Robert Frontz is president of the local club, which meets every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Ohio Valley Gas Co. office on W. 6th St.

Money Crisis For Europe Seen Easing

PARIS (AP) — European money markets were quieter today as speculators apparently held back in the expectation of international emergency action to prevent chaotic disruption of the world's major currencies.

Pressure on the French franc eased off noticeably from the near hysteria level reached at the end of last week.

The governors of the leading Western central banks met in Basel, Switzerland, for the second day amid reports that the German central bank was ready to give France an emergency credit of a billion dollars. Bankers in the know discounted reports that France had rejected a condition that French domestic comsumption be cut down.

The speculators who bought an estimated $1.5 billion dollars worth of West German marks last week in the hope that the mark would be revalued upward and the franc devalued apparently were less sure today.

The frenzied speculation last week brought the franc to its lowest level since the riots and general strike last June. The fever also affected the pound and other European currencies.

Leading bankers throughout Europe stressed their belief that the collapse of the franc and the pound would disorganize the entire world monetary system. They said world financial solidarity was essential to ward off the speculative onslaught.

Ohio Town Has Water Problems

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A water cutback for industry in this south Ohio community was expected today as an emergency pump kept the water system operative for the 5,200 townspeopl

The community, straddling the Ross-Highland County line, has been plagued with pump breakdowns since last Thursday. Residents went without water for several hours over the weekend when the emergency pump failed.

Mayor Robert J. Ralph said all businesses, especially a meat packing plant that employs more than 500 persons, will be instructed to curb water usage until the main pump was restored.

The main pump has an output of 1,250 gallons per minute while the emergency unit supplies 750 gallons a minute.

The mayor said there were no thirst problems due to the stoppage from 5 p.m. Friday to 1:30 a.m. Saturday. The local Highland District Hospital was supplied by tank trucks with a 500-gallon capacity.

Of the 10 major cities of the United Sates, Washington, D.C., has the highest infant death rate.

CLEANING TIPS

From PRESSWELL

by Paul Seckman

Care & Cleaning of Suede or Leather Trim

FABRIC FACTS . . . Suede or leather trimmed adds color and interest to many garments. Collars, pocket facings, cuffs and buttons are the more usual places on the garment where suede or leather is used as trimming. Sometimes the sleeves or the yoke of a garment are suede or leather. Coats, jackets, women's suits, children's wear and sportswear are the type of garment in which suede and leather may be found.

DYE AND FINISH PROBLEMS . . . (1) Suede dye may bleed onto the cloth portion of a suede trimmed garment. (2) Partial suede dye loss may appear as streaking or uneven lightening of the suede trim. (3) The pigmented dye finish on leather is held to the hide surface with a binding agent — usually a resin. Resin binders may be soluble in drycleaning solvent. As a result, the pigmented dye finish on leather will either crock or dissolve in drycleaning, leaving a partial or complete loss of color and finish. The pigmented dye finish may bleed onto the cloth portion of a leather trimmed garment. (4) Drycleaning solvent dissolves the plasticizer used to give imitation leather its suppleness. The loss of plasticizer results in stiffness which cannot be corrected.

SUMMARY . . . Garments trimmed with suede or leather have limited serviceability. Such garments cannot be routinely drycleaned. Loss of color from the suede or leather and migration of dye to the cloth portion of the garment are the more usual mishaps when routinely drycleaned. Shrinkage and shrivelling may also occur. It is wise to obtain a customer's signed release before drycleaning suede and leather trimmed garments.

Two Of Local Toastmasters Rank High In District Event

Two members of the East Liverpool Toastmasters Club placed high in competition during the annual District 13 meeting Saturday at the Holiday Inn in Harmarville, near Pittsburgh.

Francis J. House, representing Area 12, was runnerup in the evaluation contest in the Southern Division and Joseph Kriss was runnerup in the table topics event in the same division. They finished behind two Pittsburgh men. The local entrants received pen desk sets as prizes.

Disirict 13 is comprised of more than 50 clubs in eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania, northern West Virginia and a small part of Maryland. The district is divided into 12 areas for the contests.

The business meeting was conducted by Gene Friedline of Indiana, Pa., District 13 governor. Reports were heard from Charles Kramer, lieutenant governor, who conducted the educational session in the afternoon, and various district officers.

Dinner was served to more than 100 at 6:30 p.m.

Over-all winners in the district contests were: Gerald Hogan of College Park, Pa., in evaluation, and Robert Williamson of Pittsburgh in table topics.

Robert Frontz is president of the local club, which meets every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Ohio Valley Gas Co. office on W. 6th St.

Money Crisis For Europe Seen Easing

PARIS (AP) — European money markets were quieter today as speculators apparently held back in the expectation of international emergency action to prevent chaotic disruption of the world's major currencies.

Pressure on the French franc eased off noticeably from the near hysteria level reached at the end of last week.

The governors of the leading Western central banks met in Basel, Switzerland, for the second day amid reports that the German central bank was ready to give France an emergency credit of a billion dollars. Bankers in the know discounted reports that France had rejected a condition that French domestic comsumption be cut down.

The speculators who bought an estimated $1.5 billion dollars worth of West German marks last week in the hope that the mark would be revalued upward and the franc devalued apparently were less sure today.

The frenzied speculation last week brought the franc to its lowest level since the riots and general strike last June. The fever also affected the pound and other European currencies.

Leading bankers throughout Europe stressed their belief that the collapse of the franc and the pound would disorganize the entire world monetary system. They said world financial solidarity was essential to ward off the speculative onslaught.

Ohio Town Has Water Problems

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A water cutback for industry in this south Ohio community was expected today as an emergency pump kept the water system operative for the 5,200 townspeopl

The community, straddling the Ross-Highland County line, has been plagued with pump breakdowns since last Thursday. Residents went without water for several hours over the weekend when the emergency pump failed.

Mayor Robert J. Ralph said all businesses, especially a meat packing plant that employs more than 500 persons, will be instructed to curb water usage until the main pump was restored.

The main pump has an output of 1,250 gallons per minute while the emergency unit supplies 750 gallons a minute.

The mayor said there were no thirst problems due to the stoppage from 5 p.m. Friday to 1:30 a.m. Saturday. The local Highland District Hospital was supplied by tank trucks with a 500-gallon capacity.

Of the 10 major cities of the United Sates, Washington, D.C., has the highest infant death rate.

CLEANING TIPS

From PRESSWELL

by Paul Seckman

Care & Cleaning of Suede or Leather Trim

FABRIC FACTS . . . Suede or leather trimmed adds color and interest to many garments. Collars, pocket facings, cuffs and buttons are the more usual places on the garment where suede or leather is used as trimming. Sometimes the sleeves or the yoke of a garment are suede or leather. Coats, jackets, women's suits, children's wear and sportswear are the type of garment in which suede and leather may be found.

DYE AND FINISH PROBLEMS . . . (1) Suede dye may bleed onto the cloth portion of a suede trimmed garment. (2) Partial suede dye loss may appear as streaking or uneven lightening of the suede trim. (3) The pigmented dye finish on leather is held to the hide surface with a binding agent — usually a resin. Resin binders may be soluble in drycleaning solvent. As a result, the pigmented dye finish on leather will either crock or dissolve in drycleaning, leaving a partial or complete loss of color and finish. The pigmented dye finish may bleed onto the cloth portion of a leather trimmed garment. (4) Drycleaning solvent dissolves the plasticizer used to give imitation leather its suppleness. The loss of plasticizer results in stiffness which cannot be corrected.

SUMMARY . . . Garments trimmed with suede or leather have limited serviceability. Such garments cannot be routinely drycleaned. Loss of color from the suede or leather and migration of dye to the cloth portion of the garment are the more usual mishaps when routinely drycleaned. Shrinkage and shrivelling may also occur. It is wise to obtain a customer's signed release before drycleaning suede and leather trimmed garments.

ANN LANDERS

Hair Curlers Defended

By Ann Landers

tion for you gals who must roll up your hair and go: For under $2 you can buy attractive roller berets that hide the hardware and add a touch of glamour.

The next letter might be of interest to you. Read on.

Ann Landers: I refuse to call you "Dear" because you make me sick. Who gave you the right to call housewives slobs just because they appear in public wearing hair curlers?

Not all women can afford to go to the beauty shop. Some of us must wash and set our own hair and we have to do the marketing and daily household errands besides — so that means roll up the hair and go.

I couldn't care less what the druggist or the carry-out kid in the supermarket thinks of my looks. I'm not out to impress anybody but my husband. When he comes home at night I want to look nice for HIM.

So why don't you stick to lovelorn problems and stay out of people's hair? — MADDER THAN HOPS IN HOUSTON.

Dear Houston Hops: Apparently I struck some raw nerves around the country. My drop-dead mail tripled this week.

The majority of the outraged housewives ignored, as you did, my criticism of short shorts and bra-less, haltered females who parade in public barefooted. It was the crack about the curlers that got the girls where they live.

My position remains unchanged, but here's a suggestion for you gals who must roll up your hair and go: For under $2 you can buy attractive roller berets that hide the hardware and add a touch of glamour.

The next letter might be of interest to you. Read on.

Curl Talk

Dear Ann: Thank you for calling women who appear in public wearing hair curlers by their right name — slobs.

I live in Utica, N.Y. This city isn't a metropolis like San Francisco or Chicago, but it's not a summer resort either.

I own a small shop in the business section. The Chamber of Commerce keeps urging us to make our shops as attractive as possible, but what good does it do when the customers look like something the cat was ashamed to drag in?

Nobody expects women to wear hats and gloves when they're shopping, but if they'd wear shoes and skirts instead of bikini tops, and if they'd leave those ugly aluminum and plastic curlers at home, it would help keep America beautiful.

The Lookout

Dear Ann: I despise stool pigeons and I'll never be one. But what goes on in this building is more than I can take.

My desk faces the back door. Every day I see employes walking out with typewriters, adding machines, chairs, plants from the reception room framed pictures, wall clocks. Just name it.

Yesterday someone walked out with a hugh carton of toilet paper. I refuse to "sing" but I think it's lousy the way people steal from their employers. Any suggestions? — 20-20 VISION.

Der 20-20: Write a signed letter to the management. Tell them what you told me. They can post a guard at the doors and put an end to the stealing.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lisbon Minister Stresses Price Of Free People

LISBON — "Freedom is not free, you have to pay the price for it."

So declared the Rev. Paul T. Gerrard when he addressed a veterans' dinner Saturday night at the VFW post here. The event was arranged by the Auxiliary.

Rev. Gerrard pointed out that on Nov. 11, 1918, a Polish boy and I rang the bell at St. Joseph's church in Pittsburgh announcing the end of World War I.

"Many memories come to me about those days when news traveled so slowly compared with today. There are memories of those who died in World War II. Then came the Korean War, and now Vietnam. "The U.S. has won every war in which it has participated, but in many instances has lost the peace. Is the world any better as a result? What are parents teaching young people today—honesty, integrity, kindness?

"I am gratified for organizations like the VFW and the American Legion for their help in remembering those in hospitals and others who have been victims of the wars."

Leonard Warner, toastmaster, paid tribute to four members of the post who have died this year — Russell Gabriel, Evan Evans, Howard Cole and Kenneth Kirk.

Gold Star Mothers honored were Ollie Carnes, Mrs. Annie Reuff, Mrs. Tom Tucker and Mrs. Mary Robinson. Mrs. Helen Guy was unable to attend.

Dr. Herbert Bennett, a veteran of three wars now in the Salem hospital, received special recognition.

Harold Toot, commander of the post, and his wife were introduced, as were Robert Kelm, commander of the American Legion, and his wife and Mayor Clyde Pike.

Rev. Gerrard gave the invocation and the benediction.

ANN LANDERS

Hair Curlers Defended

By Ann Landers

tion for you gals who must roll up your hair and go: For under $2 you can buy attractive roller berets that hide the hardware and add a touch of glamour.

The next letter might be of interest to you. Read on.

Ann Landers: I refuse to call you "Dear" because you make me sick. Who gave you the right to call housewives slobs just because they appear in public wearing hair curlers?

Not all women can afford to go to the beauty shop. Some of us must wash and set our own hair and we have to do the marketing and daily household errands besides — so that means roll up the hair and go.

I couldn't care less what the druggist or the carry-out kid in the supermarket thinks of my looks. I'm not out to impress anybody but my husband. When he comes home at night I want to look nice for HIM.

So why don't you stick to lovelorn problems and stay out of people's hair? — MADDER THAN HOPS IN HOUSTON.

Dear Houston Hops: Apparently I struck some raw nerves around the country. My drop-dead mail tripled this week.

The majority of the outraged housewives ignored, as you did, my criticism of short shorts and bra-less, haltered females who parade in public barefooted. It was the crack about the curlers that got the girls where they live.

My position remains unchanged, but here's a suggestion for you gals who must roll up your hair and go: For under $2 you can buy attractive roller berets that hide the hardware and add a touch of glamour.

The next letter might be of interest to you. Read on.

Curl Talk

Dear Ann: Thank you for calling women who appear in public wearing hair curlers by their right name — slobs.

I live in Utica, N.Y. This city isn't a metropolis like San Francisco or Chicago, but it's not a summer resort either.

I own a small shop in the business section. The Chamber of Commerce keeps urging us to make our shops as attractive as possible, but what good does it do when the customers look like something the cat was ashamed to drag in?

Nobody expects women to wear hats and gloves when they're shopping, but if they'd wear shoes and skirts instead of bikini tops, and if they'd leave those ugly aluminum and plastic curlers at home, it would help keep America beautiful.

The Lookout

Dear Ann: I despise stool pigeons and I'll never be one. But what goes on in this building is more than I can take.

My desk faces the back door. Every day I see employes walking out with typewriters, adding machines, chairs, plants from the reception room framed pictures, wall clocks. Just name it.

Yesterday someone walked out with a hugh carton of toilet paper. I refuse to "sing" but I think it's lousy the way people steal from their employers. Any suggestions? — 20-20 VISION.

Der 20-20: Write a signed letter to the management. Tell them what you told me. They can post a guard at the doors and put an end to the stealing.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FTC Report Hits Defects Of New Autos

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission released a controversial staff report today that charges automakers with stressing sales at the expense of proper warranty service and repair operations.

A 1965 field study, conducted largely in the Washington, D.C., area, was the jumping off point for the investigation described in the report, including extensive interviewing among the manufacturers and dealers.

"The report has focused attention on several problems," the agency said. "It concludes that many new cars are delivered to the buyer in poor condition; car owners experience difficulty in having repairs made simply and expeditiously, often causing them great inconvenience; workmanship in warranty repair work is frequently shoddy; and exclusions, limitations and conditions in the warranties are not made clear to the purchasers."

The commission itself has taken no position on the report, which is the work of two of its staff bureaus.

But the FTC announced it will open hearings on car warranties Jan. 9 and may make some proposals to Congress.

Among criticisms in the report is the charge that the automakers put too much stress on sales, giving dealers little incentive to develop strong repair and service operations.

Other points:

Bad feelings about warranties could be eased if the manufacturers caught more defects at the factory and dealers did a better job of predelivery inspection.

—Dealers might show more enthusiasm for warranty repairs if their payment from the manufacturers was increased.

—Warranties should be presented in more straightforward terms and publicized more fully by manufacturers and dealers.

There will be two other investigations into the cost of auto repairs.

The Transportation Department plans the other inquiry into the rising cost of fixing cars as part of its general look into the auto insurance industry.

Rusk Meets With Franco

MADRID (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk met today with Generalissimo Franco after spending the weekend in bed with the flu.

Rusk planned to tell the Spanish chief of state about the meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Brussels.

Meanwhile, U.S. and Spanish military leaders began a series of informal talks seeking to break the deadlock over renewal of U.S. base rights in Spain.

Heading the U.S. contingent was Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who also came from the NATO meeting.

Officially Wheeler's talks were not listed as negotiations, but U.S. military and Spanish government sources both said the negotiations for bases had been turned over to the military and that a renewal agreement would come out of Wheeler's visit.

Norway and Sweden are separated by the Kiolen Mountains.

The DOCTOR Says

Early Menstruation Isn't Significant

A mother writes that her daughter, 9, has started to menstruate and wonders whether there could be any harmful results from starting so early in life. Over 90 per cent of the girls who menstruate before they reach their teens are normal and their early maturation is of no special significance. In the rest, the cause may be a brain tumor, which is usually fatal, or an ovarian tumor which should be removed unless it is found to be a benign cyst, in which case no treatment is necessary.

Dr. Brandstadt

IN THE NORMAL but precociously developed child the only treatment required is sympathetic understanding and special attention to her sex education. When sexual desires occur before the development of sound judgment regarding their meaning, there is always some danger that the child will become pregnant.

—:—

Q—Is it true that female infants have some uterine bleeding for the first few days of their lives?

A—There is a rare but harmless occurrence. If it doesn't clear up within five days, the child should be examined to determine the cause of the bleeding.

Q—Two doctors say that our son, 6, has sinus trouble. At times, especially after swimming or a change in the weather, he has severe headaches. Also his ears are very sensitive to loud noises. Would sinus trouble cause this? What treatment do you recommend?

A—Headaches caused by sinusitis are usually present on arising and persist until 11 or 12 o'clock. Sinusitis may also cause various symptoms related to the ears. Aggravation of the trouble after swimming or a change in the altitude or the weather are common observations. It is important to determine whether the trouble is due to allergy, infection or both. Several drugs are available for temporary relief but removal of the cause — not always easy— is the only way to cure this condition.

Q—My granddaughter has a strawberry birthmark on her neck. It was the size of a marble at birth. Her doctor said it would get larger before it would get smaller. Now, at the age of 9 months, it is the size of an egg. How long before it shrinks? Should anything be done for it?

A—Birthmarks are developmental defects. Those that disappear spontaneously usually do so before the child's first birthday. If they don't, the treatment depends on the type of birthmark. Some improve when prednisone is given. Some disappear when carbon dioxide snow is applied. Some cannot be removed but can be hidden with masking cosmetics.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer indivdual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Dying Profession

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Heart transplant pioneer Prof. Christiaan Barnard told a graduating class of nurses that theirs was a dying profession. Barnard said nurses were becoming little more than "medical clerks" with more and more of the real work being carried out by nurses aides and other assistants. "Nothing helps a doctor more than leaving a patient in the hands of a competent nurse. No even the most modern medical machinery can replace a good nurse."

Police Trace Auto In Local Hit-Skip Case

An auto involved in a hit - skip collision Saturday afternoon on Walnut St. has been traced to a Chester resident through a license number furnished by two witnesses, police reported.

A parked 1965 sedan owned by Donovan Kirbaugh of 1332 Hillcrest, Wellsville, was damaged on the right rear fender and door about 4:15 when struck by an auto which was backing from the parking lot at a beauty shop, police said.

A Cleveland Ave. motorist told police he was sitting in his car on the east side of Walnut St. and saw the offending auto strike the Kirbaugh vehicle three times as the driver attempted to maneuver off the lot. He furnished the license number that allowed police to trace the car to a resident of Virginia Ave., Chester.

Cregar told police he was traveling north on Jackson St., halted for a stop sign and then pulled out in low gear, turning east on W. 3rd St. Lynch told officers he was traveling east on W. 3rd St. when he saw Cregar pull into the intersection. He said he applied his brakes, but his car skidded.

A parked car was damaged heavily in a collision on McKinnon Ave. Sunday at 10:28 a.m., officers said.

Walker told officers he was traveling east about 20 miles an hour when an oncoming auto forced him to veer to the right, striking tre Corbisello auto.

The parked car, which was in neutral gear, was shoved 12 feet by the impact, officers said. The collision caused heavy damage to the left rear quarter panel and left rear door of the Corbisello car and the left rear tire was deflated. There was damage to the right front fender, bumper and headlight of Walker's auto.

FTC Report Hits Defects Of New Autos

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission released a controversial staff report today that charges automakers with stressing sales at the expense of proper warranty service and repair operations.

A 1965 field study, conducted largely in the Washington, D.C., area, was the jumping off point for the investigation described in the report, including extensive interviewing among the manufacturers and dealers.

"The report has focused attention on several problems," the agency said. "It concludes that many new cars are delivered to the buyer in poor condition; car owners experience difficulty in having repairs made simply and expeditiously, often causing them great inconvenience; workmanship in warranty repair work is frequently shoddy; and exclusions, limitations and conditions in the warranties are not made clear to the purchasers."

The commission itself has taken no position on the report, which is the work of two of its staff bureaus.

But the FTC announced it will open hearings on car warranties Jan. 9 and may make some proposals to Congress.

Among criticisms in the report is the charge that the automakers put too much stress on sales, giving dealers little incentive to develop strong repair and service operations.

Other points:

Bad feelings about warranties could be eased if the manufacturers caught more defects at the factory and dealers did a better job of predelivery inspection.

—Dealers might show more enthusiasm for warranty repairs if their payment from the manufacturers was increased.

—Warranties should be presented in more straightforward terms and publicized more fully by manufacturers and dealers.

There will be two other investigations into the cost of auto repairs.

The Transportation Department plans the other inquiry into the rising cost of fixing cars as part of its general look into the auto insurance industry.

Rusk Meets With Franco

MADRID (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk met today with Generalissimo Franco after spending the weekend in bed with the flu.

Rusk planned to tell the Spanish chief of state about the meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Brussels.

Meanwhile, U.S. and Spanish military leaders began a series of informal talks seeking to break the deadlock over renewal of U.S. base rights in Spain.

Heading the U.S. contingent was Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who also came from the NATO meeting.

Officially Wheeler's talks were not listed as negotiations, but U.S. military and Spanish government sources both said the negotiations for bases had been turned over to the military and that a renewal agreement would come out of Wheeler's visit.

Norway and Sweden are separated by the Kiolen Mountains.

The DOCTOR Says

Early Menstruation Isn't Significant

A mother writes that her daughter, 9, has started to menstruate and wonders whether there could be any harmful results from starting so early in life. Over 90 per cent of the girls who menstruate before they reach their teens are normal and their early maturation is of no special significance. In the rest, the cause may be a brain tumor, which is usually fatal, or an ovarian tumor which should be removed unless it is found to be a benign cyst, in which case no treatment is necessary.

IN THE NORMAL but precociously developed child the only treatment required is sympathetic understanding and special attention to her sex education. When sexual desires occur before the development of sound judgment regarding their meaning, there is always some danger that the child will become pregnant.

—:—

Q—Is it true that female infants have some uterine bleeding for the first few days of their lives?

A—There is a rare but harmless occurrence. If it doesn't clear up within five days, the child should be examined to determine the cause of the bleeding.

Q—Two doctors say that our son, 6, has sinus trouble. At times, especially after swimming or a change in the weather, he has severe headaches. Also his ears are very sensitive to loud noises. Would sinus trouble cause this? What treatment do you recommend?

A—Headaches caused by sinusitis are usually present on arising and persist until 11 or 12 o'clock. Sinusitis may also cause various symptoms related to the ears. Aggravation of the trouble after swimming or a change in the altitude or the weather are common observations. It is important to determine whether the trouble is due to allergy, infection or both. Several drugs are available for temporary relief but removal of the cause — not always easy— is the only way to cure this condition.

Q—My granddaughter has a strawberry birthmark on her neck. It was the size of a marble at birth. Her doctor said it would get larger before it would get smaller. Now, at the age of 9 months, it is the size of an egg. How long before it shrinks? Should anything be done for it?

A—Birthmarks are developmental defects. Those that disappear spontaneously usually do so before the child's first birthday. If they don't, the treatment depends on the type of birthmark. Some improve when prednisone is given. Some disappear when carbon dioxide snow is applied. Some cannot be removed but can be hidden with masking cosmetics.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer indivdual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Dying Profession

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Heart transplant pioneer Prof. Christiaan Barnard told a graduating class of nurses that theirs was a dying profession. Barnard said nurses were becoming little more than "medical clerks" with more and more of the real work being carried out by nurses aides and other assistants. "Nothing helps a doctor more than leaving a patient in the hands of a competent nurse. No even the most modern medical machinery can replace a good nurse."

Then the pacifist folksinger asked Vietnam war protestors in the concert audience of 14,000 to give her their draft cards.

More than 40 youths left on the stage what they described as their draft cards. "I'll send them to the President," said Miss Baez. "No, I'll send them to Mr. Nixon."

Convicted Slayer Undergoes Tests On Chromosomes

CHICAGO (AP) — Attorney Gerald W. Getty confirmed Sunday that convicted slayer Richard Speck has undergone tests to determine whether he possesses a chromosome abnormality which some scientists believe is the cause of criminal action in some persons. Getty declined to reveal the results.

Getty is the public defender appealing the conviction in 1967 of Speck for the murder of eight student nurses two years ago in a South Side townhouse. Speck was sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Getty said he would release the results of the tests after a decision is made by the Illinois Supreme Court on the appeal, which was argued Sept. 25. All death sentences are automatically appealed under Illinois law.

He said that he would not use the results in the present appeal, but left open the possibility of their use in any future appeal. He said he could ask that Speck be committed to a mental institution instead of executed.

Architect Reveals Capitol In Bad Shape

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An architect says America's Capitol could come tumbling down with a minor sonic boom or construction blasting three miles away.

Mario Campioli, assistant Capitol architect, told the Society of American Registered Architects that most city ordinances would condemn the Capitol as too hazardous. "Great pieces of stone have fallen from the cornices and column capitals," he said Saturday.

Preventing the Capitol's collapse would cost an estimated $50 million and take four years, said Campioli.

Pittsburgh Mayor Plans To Promote Tax Issues

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pittsburgh Mayor Joseph M Barr is ready to use persoal persuasion in an effort to dislodge two tax proposals from the Senate Rules Committee.

Barr and Phillip Baskin, council's finance chairman, were due in the capital city today.

They need at least one of the two proposals — a wage tax hike or an increase in the occupational tax — to pass to finance a $6.5 milllion pay raise given Pittsburgh's police and firemen by two arbitrators.

The two bills were introduced last Tuesday. One would authorize municipalities to levy an additional one per cent wage tax on all persons employed within their boundaries, whether or not they are residents. Currently, a wage earner is not required to pay the tax in the city where he works if his community has a similar tax.

The other bill would allow the maximum occupational privilege tax charged by local governments to be raised from $10 to $50.

Meanwhile, the 15-bill package to implement portions of the new judicial article of the state constitution moves to the House this week, following passage by the Senate.

The legislation must be passed in this session of the legislature, which ends this month.

Also before the House is a bill that would allow county-wide referendums on whether restaurants should be allowed to sell alcoholic beverages on Sunday.

Minority Whip K. Leroy Irvis, D-Allegheny, reported strong opposition among Democrats to the Senate-passed measure, while Republicans are divided on the proposal.

Another controversial bill awaiting House action would prohibit the State Human Relations Commission from forcing school districts to end racial imbalance in elementary schools. The bill was introduced after recent commission orders resulted in desegragation plans that required school busing.

The Shafer administration, meanwhile, is pushing for action on a proposal to raise motor vehicle registration fees to bring in $65 million annually for highway improvements.

The legislation, still to be introduced in bill form, would increase automobile registration fees from $10 to $20, and station wagon costs from $12 to $20. Truck fees, based on weight, would go up by 30 per cent.

The Senate could act this week on a bill that would enable Pittsburgh and Scranton teachers who struck for higher pay to collect their raises.

The teachers who struck violated the current public employes law, which rules them ineligible for raises for three years.

Personalities In The News

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — British actor David Hemmings and actress Gayle Hunnicutt learned their 1967 wedding in the south of France was illegal. They broke up, were reunited and now have married again.

The couple, married Saturday by the Rev. Henry Kuizenga of the Beverly Hills Presbyterian Church, are honeymooning in Acapulco, Mexico.

The red-haired bride, 26, was given in marriage by her father, Col. S. L. Hunnicutt of Fort Worth, Tex. The ceremony was attended by such stars as Steve McQueen, Nancy Sinatra, Herb Alpert, Noel Harrison and actress Samantha Eggar. Screen writer Tom Mankiewicz was Hemmings' best man.

The bride, who wore a Victorian style wedding gown, just completed filming "Little Sister." Hemmings, also 26, is best known as the star of "Blow Up."

LONDON (AP) — Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery of Alamein had this explanation Sunday for the single candle topping his 81st birthday cake: "One year older, of course. One year older."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jim Jones, President Johnson's 29-year-old appointments secretary, was married Sunday to Olivia Barclay, a beautiful blonde lawyer with a degree from Harvard.

The wedding at Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Georgetown was attended by President and Mrs. Johnson, some members of the Cabinet and Supreme Court and officials from other branches of government.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor James Stewart has won the annual Screen Actors Guild award for 1968.

In presenting Stewart with the award Sunday, Guild President Charlton Heston said the actor had been selected for "fostering the finest ideals of the acting profession."

More than 1,000 actors attended the annual membership meeting. Heston was re-elected president. Gene Barry is the new first vice president; Whit Bissell, second vice president and John Gavin, third vice president.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Surgery to remove an arterial blockage is scheduled Thursday for Sen. E. L. "Bob" Bartlett, D-Alaska, his office reported Sunday.

The operation, called a "double arterial implant," is to be performed at Ohio's Cleveland Clinic, where thousands of such operations have been performed.

Bartlett, 64, has a two-year history of heart trouble, and has been in and out of hospitals for nearly a year.

Varied Projects Outlined During Legion's Meeting

Various projects were outlined during the November meeting of the Auxiliary of South Side American Legion Post 952 at the post home near Hooks-town.

A teen-ager dance will be held Friday from 8 to 11, with music by the "Vibrants" from Hopewell Township. Refreshments will be sold.

A spaghetti dinner will be served during the annual turkey shoot Saturday from noon to 8 p.m. at the post home.

Proceeds from the events will be for post improvements.

Area Man Withdraws Charge Against Wife

A shooting charge against Mrs. Victoria Jakes, 53, of Stop Nine near Midland was dismissed Saturday when her husband, Daniel, 61, withdrew information filed in the case before Justice of the Peace Stephen Germusa of Midland.

Jakes was wounded in the stomach Nov. 10 when she fired a .25-caliber pistol at him as he entered the front door of the home.

Convicted Slayer Undergoes Tests On Chromosomes

CHICAGO (AP) — Attorney Gerald W. Getty confirmed Sunday that convicted slayer Richard Speck has undergone tests to determine whether he possesses a chromosome abnormality which some scientists believe is the cause of criminal action in some persons. Getty declined to reveal the results.

Getty is the public defender appealing the conviction in 1967 of Speck for the murder of eight student nurses two years ago in a South Side townhouse. Speck was sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Getty said he would release the results of the tests after a decision is made by the Illinois Supreme Court on the appeal, which was argued Sept. 25. All death sentences are automatically appealed under Illinois law.

He said that he would not use the results in the present appeal, but left open the possibility of their use in any future appeal. He said he could ask that Speck be committed to a mental institution instead of executed.

Architect Reveals Capitol In Bad Shape

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An architect says America's Capitol could come tumbling down with a minor sonic boom or construction blasting three miles away.

Mario Campioli, assistant Capitol architect, told the Society of American Registered Architects that most city ordinances would condemn the Capitol as too hazardous. "Great pieces of stone have fallen from the cornices and column capitals," he said Saturday.

Preventing the Capitol's collapse would cost an estimated $50 million and take four years, said Campioli.

Pittsburgh Mayor Plans To Promote Tax Issues

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pittsburgh Mayor Joseph M Barr is ready to use persoal persuasion in an effort to dislodge two tax proposals from the Senate Rules Committee.

Barr and Phillip Baskin, council's finance chairman, were due in the capital city today.

They need at least one of the two proposals — a wage tax hike or an increase in the occupational tax — to pass to finance a $6.5 milllion pay raise given Pittsburgh's police and firemen by two arbitrators.

The two bills were introduced last Tuesday. One would authorize municipalities to levy an additional one per cent wage tax on all persons employed within their boundaries, whether or not they are residents. Currently, a wage earner is not required to pay the tax in the city where he works if his community has a similar tax.

The other bill would allow the maximum occupational privilege tax charged by local governments to be raised from $10 to $50.

Meanwhile, the 15-bill package to implement portions of the new judicial article of the state constitution moves to the House this week, following passage by the Senate.

The legislation must be passed in this session of the legislature, which ends this month.

Also before the House is a bill that would allow county-wide referendums on whether restaurants should be allowed to sell alcoholic beverages on Sunday.

Minority Whip K. Leroy Irvis, D-Allegheny, reported strong opposition among Democrats to the Senate-passed measure, while Republicans are divided on the proposal.

Another controversial bill awaiting House action would prohibit the State Human Relations Commission from forcing school districts to end racial imbalance in elementary schools. The bill was introduced after recent commission orders resulted in desegragation plans that required school busing.

The Shafer administration, meanwhile, is pushing for action on a proposal to raise motor vehicle registration fees to bring in $65 million annually for highway improvements.

The legislation, still to be introduced in bill form, would increase automobile registration fees from $10 to $20, and station wagon costs from $12 to $20. Truck fees, based on weight, would go up by 30 per cent.

The Senate could act this week on a bill that would enable Pittsburgh and Scranton teachers who struck for higher pay to collect their raises.

The teachers who struck violated the current public employes law, which rules them ineligible for raises for three years.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

More Plastic Ring Uses

DEAR FOLKS: Thanks a million for sharing with us all your marvelous ideas for using those little round, plastic rings that are in the center of a roll of cellophane tape!

Heloise

One sweet woman saves them for a charity group who make tray favors for hospital patients. They fashion napkin holders from these rings by covering them with colorful ribbon and yarn. She also says they provide a good substitute tie ring for Cub Scouts to use on their neckerchiefs if they have lost their regular one.

Another doll makes candle holders. She covers the end of the candle with a piece of aluminum foil so that it fits securely inside the ring. Then slips a little ring of plastic flowers over the candle and lets it rest on top of the plastic ring. Very attractive. (I know. I made two after reading her letter.)

Another wrote that she uses them to wind thread on after taking out a hem.

One doily covers them with colored twine or yarn and joins several together to make a mat for under flower pots.

Still another sweetie-pie used them for pedestals for tiny wooden animals and figurines. She also stacks and glues three together and covers with foil or adhesive-backed plastic for a nice little flower holder to be used on a hospital tray.

One darling little boy invented a game to be played by his kindergarten class and named it "Spinner." Here's how they play it:

Children sit in a circle on the floor. The leader spins the "Spinner" by standing it on edge and spinning it with his forefinger. If it comes straight back to him he has another turn. If it doesn't he loses his turn and it passes to the person next to him. I tried this, and after a little practice, I was able to make that little gadget return to me most every time.) His class spent many happy times playing this little game. I thought that one quite tricky.

Sooooo . . . gals, these little gadgets have many uses. Don't throw them away, you're sure to find a good use for them. Remember, they cost you nothing. And that's the best kind of something!

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: I find those knife-sharp creases in permanent-press pants and capris won't end up a lighter color after many washings if they are washed and dried wrongside out each time.

This keeps the sharp edges of the creases from rubbing against other pieces of laundry in the same load. (Thats what causes these creases to become lighter.)

MRS. W. M.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: As manager of a large apartment building, we get lots of first-time-away - from - home young people. And such things they try to do!

Recently one of them came into the office and said she's spent half an hour trying to light her stove burners.

MRS. H. G. W.

DEAR HELOISE: The soles in children's sleepers near-layaways wear out before the pajamas do.

To repair them, I cut up an old plastic, flannel-backed tablecloth and got more wear out of what would otherwise have been discarded.

The plastic goes outside and the flannel part inside. They can be pinked with pinking shears easily.

AUNT ANNE

DEAR HELOISE: When looking at my French poodle who needed a grooming badly, I thought of my sheepskin-lined car coat and wondered if the wire dog brush would work on the coat as well as on the dog.

It's simply amazing. The coat collar and lining look like new and are soft and beautiful again.

JEAN McKRAG.

DEAR HELOISE: Just grab your bath brush when you need to brush your back and shoulders after combing your hair. Sure quick and easy!

MRS. V. P.

Italy Faces Strikes And 'Disorders

ROME (AP) — Italy today began a hard week politically during which government employes are striking for 24 hours, students will be taking to the streets again and the government is expected to resign.

The nationwide strike by government employes was scheduled to begin tonight when railwaymen leave their trains in a bid for higher wages.

They will be joined at midnight by postal, telephone and electrical workers. On Tuesday government employes will not show up at courts, offices, schools and ministries.

The strike order from both Catholic and Communist labor unions went out to about 2 million persons and will paralyze part of the nation. Last week more than 10 million employes of private firms struck for 24 hours.

Student groups disgruntled over the lack of reform in the university system have announced more demonstrations with workers later this week.

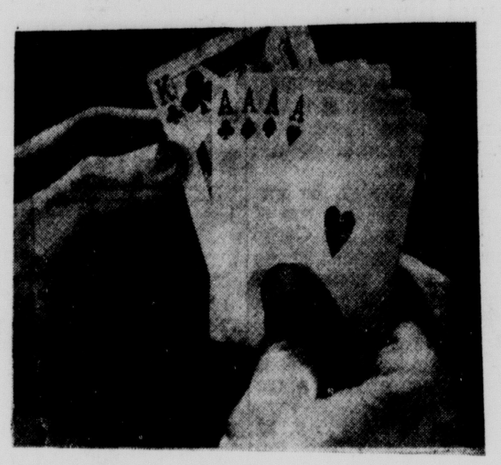

The students have been occupying four of the country's universities for the past week, clashed with police during the general strike last week and fought with riot squads in Florence during a demonstration Saturday demanding the release of persons jailed during the strike.

The University of Rome announced it has cut the telephone lines from the occupied law building because the students were making numerous international calls. The announcement said one call was to Cuba.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Busy And Versatile Ann Baxter

It isn't easy for an actor who insists on a variety of roles to work much in TV. There aren't that many different roles in TV today, and TV producers are great for type-casting. This is why Anne Baxter, who is a good actress, can be classed as unique.

Hal Humphrey

In an "Ironside" episode last week, for example, she was an elegant and brilliant attorney accused of double murder. The next night in a Name of the Game episode she played the mistress of a wealthy fanatic (Robert Young). "I was a combination of Zsa Zsa Gabor, Gloria Swanson and Joan Crawford in that one," she says.

-:-

NEXT SATURDAY Anne is in NBC's "World Premiere" movie ("Companions in Nightmare") as the neurotic wife of a famous conductor and winds up in a group therapy session with five other misfits.

On Dec. 11 she turns up in "The Virginian" as a scheming old flame of ranch owner Clay Grainger (John McIntire) and is kidnaped by Indians along with Clay's wife. Sometime in January a role in a "Big Valley" episode has her seeking vengeance for the death of her husband in a mine disaster ("I'm a Medea," says Anne).

Regardless of the stories and short shooting schedules, Anne attacks all of these TV roles conscientiously. She holds back nothing.

-:-

"THERE ARE ACTORS whom I won't name, that will just walk through a role because it's TV, but not me. They forget there are millions of people watching," she says.

One other "Name of the Game" episode she filmed probably won't be seen. NBC and Universal Studios scrapped it (at least temporarily) as being too violent.

"It was called 'The Monster' and Brandon De Wilde and I are in it with Robert Stack. I'm a pig farmer and the mother of Brandon, who kills nine people. We were shooting it that week Sen. Kennedy was assassinated, so you can understand the reactions to the film.

"A show doesn't have to be a shoot-'em-up to be violent, however. I see lots of nonphysical violence on TV, which doesn't seem to count, but that's a whole subject in itself."

WITH ALL of this activity, one easily might say Anne's career is flourishing.

"That's a big word. Let's just say I've been busy. I was rather proud, though, of that first 'World Premiere' last season with Hank Fonda, 'Stranger on the Run.' It was a Western, but different. I thought it had some really fine moments."

No newcomer to the business of acting, she was around when things were more glamorous and leisurely in Hollywood. Anne won a best supporting actress Oscar in 1946 as the grief-stricken alcoholic in "The Razors Edge," and four years later was nominated for another Oscar for her part of the ruthless young actress in "All About Eve" with Bette Davis.

THE CHANGES in the business since those days haven't floored her, as they did many actors who just couldn't adjust. In the late '50s Anne was on the Broadway stage and doing "live" TV drama instead of movies.

About eight years ago she married an American rancher with land in Australia, where they lived for three years, then moved back to another ranch in New Mexico ("20 miles from nowhere").

"I wouldn't do it over, but neither would I trade the experience," says Anne, who is separated from her husband now and lives with their two young daughters (5 and 7). Her other daughter, Katrina, 17, was from her marriage to the late actor John Hodiak, whom she divorced in 1953.

"DURING THOSE YEARS in Australia I discovered that being an actress was something I was, and not what I did," Anne comments.

She resumed her career earnestly about three years ago and is about to go under contract at Universal where, Anne says, most of the action is. Busy as she is, Anne still turns down parts.

"You'll never catch me playing Kitty the saloon girl again. I did enough of those 10 years ago and swore I'd do no more," she resolutely adds.

NEXT SATURDAY Anne is in NBC's "World Premiere" movie ("Companions in Nightmare") as the neurotic wife of a famous conductor and winds up in a group therapy session with five other misfits.

On Dec. 11 she turns up in "The Virginian" as a scheming old flame of ranch owner Clay Grainger (John McIntire) and is kidnaped by Indians along with Clay's wife. Sometime in January a role in a "Big Valley" episode has her seeking vengeance for the death of her husband in a mine disaster ("I'm a Medea," says Anne).

Regardless of the stories and short shooting schedules, Anne attacks all of these TV roles conscientiously. She holds back nothing.

"THERE ARE ACTORS whom I won't name, that will just walk through a role because it's TV, but not me. They forget there are millions of people watching," she says.

One other "Name of the Game" episode she filmed probably won't be seen. NBC and Universal Studios scrapped it (at least temporarily) as being too violent.

"It was called 'The Monster' and Brandon De Wilde and I are in it with Robert Stack. I'm a pig farmer and the mother of Brandon, who kills nine people. We were shooting it that week Sen. Kennedy was assassinated, so you can understand the reactions to the film.

"A show doesn't have to be a shoot-'em-up to be violent, however. I see lots of nonphysical violence on TV, which doesn't seem to count, but that's a whole subject in itself."

WITH ALL of this activity, one easily might say Anne's career is flourishing.

"That's a big word. Let's just say I've been busy. I was rather proud, though, of that first 'World Premiere' last season with Hank Fonda, 'Stranger on the Run.' It was a Western, but different. I thought it had some really fine moments."

No newcomer to the business of acting, she was around when things were more glamorous and leisurely in Hollywood. Anne won a best supporting actress Oscar in 1946 as the grief-stricken alcoholic in "The Razors Edge," and four years later was nominated for another Oscar for her part of the ruthless young actress in "All About Eve" with Bette Davis.

THE CHANGES in the business since those days haven't floored her, as they did many actors who just couldn't adjust. In the late '50s Anne was on the Broadway stage and doing "live" TV drama instead of movies.

About eight years ago she married an American rancher with land in Australia, where they lived for three years, then moved back to another ranch in New Mexico ("20 miles from nowhere").

"I wouldn't do it over, but neither would I trade the experience," says Anne, who is separated from her husband now and lives with their two young daughters (5 and 7). Her other daughter, Katrina, 17, was from her marriage to the late actor John Hodiak, whom she divorced in 1953.

"DURING THOSE YEARS in Australia I discovered that being an actress was something I was, and not what I did," Anne comments.

She resumed her career earnestly about three years ago and is about to go under contract at Universal where, Anne says, most of the action is. Busy as she is, Anne still turns down parts.

"You'll never catch me playing Kitty the saloon girl again. I did enough of those 10 years ago and swore I'd do no more," she resolutely adds.

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Dave Middlemas, Lewis and Clark County sheriff, has been investigating the mysterious disappearance of a local girl.

As part of his investigation he asked the Minnesota vehicle licensing bureau to check on whether or not a driver's license had been issued to the missing girl.

Summitville Area News

SUMMITVILLE — Wade Clark of the Summitville area showed colored slides and spoke on his trip to Europe in August during the meeting of the Women's Civic Club Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Paul Karafa.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark were among a large group of farmers who took the tour. Mrs. Clark assisted in the program.

Countries visited were Belgium, Russia, East Germany, West Germany, Switzerland and Spain.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Ernest Phillips reported on the progress of the telephone survey being made in an effort to obtain toll - free service to Lisbon from the Hanoverton and Winona exchanges. Petitions are being circulated that will be presented to the telephone companies.

Mrs. Karafa was assisted in serving lunch to the 18 present by Mrs. Don McCord and Mrs. Ken Ketterer.

Cookies made from recipes representing each of the countries Mr. and Mrs. Clark visited were served. The table was decorated in orange and gold and fall flowers in a natural wood basket formed the centerpiece.

The next meeting will be a public Christmas party at the Speir Community building on Dec. 12 at 8 p.m.

President Johnson Issues Thanksgiving Proclamation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is the text of the Thanksgiving day proclamation issued by President Johnson Friday:

Americans, looking back on the tumultuous events of 1968, may be more inclined to ask God's mercy and guidance than to offer Him thanks for his blessings.

There are many events in this year that deserve our remembrance, and give us cause for thanksgiving:

—The endurance and stability of our democracy, as we prepare once more for an orderly transition of authority;

—The beginning of talks with our adversaries, that will, we pray, lead to peace in Vietnam;

—The increasing prosperity of our people, including those who were denied any share in America's blessings in the past;

—The achievement of new breakthroughs in medical science, and new victories over disease.

These events inspire not only the deepest gratitude, but confidence that our nation, the beneficiary of good fortune beyond that of any nation in history, will surmount its present trials and achieve a more just society for its people.

In this season, let us offer more than words of thanksgiving to God. Let us resolve to offer Him the best that is within us—tolerance, respect for life, faith in the destiny of all men to live in peace.

Now, therefore, I, Lyndon B. Johnson, President of the United States of America, in consonance with Section 6103 of Title 5 of the United States Code designating the fourth Thursday of November in each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, Nov. 28, 1968 as a day of national thanksgiving.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand this fifteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and sixty-eight, and the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and ninety-third.

Police At Findlay Remain On Strike

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — This city is without police for the third day, apparently as a result of a misunderstanding between the Fraternal Order of Police Association (FOP) and City Council's Finance Committee.

The FOP said the Finance Committee was asked Nov. 5 to meet with police by Nov. 15 to discuss pay and fringe increases.

But Finance Committee Chairman Thomas Trout said the only request his committee had received was one from the safety service director which had asked for a report on the FOP's June 27 request for an increase in police salaries in 1969.

Members of the city's 37-man police force began calling in sick Saturday, leaving only the police chief, a captain, a lieutenant, a probationary patrolman and auxiliaries to protect the city. The Hancock County Sheriff's Department also was patrolling the streets.

Xenia Employes Accept New Pact

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Garbage pickups, water and sewage service and other services will be carried on as normal here today, the threat of a strike by nonuniformed city employes apparently ended.

Fifty-four workers in the garbage, street repair and cleaning, water works and sewage departments had threatened to strike today in a wage dispute which has dragged on since summer.

But Sunday, Vincent Koester, business agent for Local 101 of the Dayton Public Service Union, which represents the workers, said they had accepted a 5 per cent pay increase and a one-year contract.

The workers, demanding a 7½ per cent wage hike, earlier had turned down the city's offer of 5 per cent over two years. The current minimum wages for full-time workers ranges from $2.26 to $2.90 an hour.

Koester said the one - year pact was approved because it leaves the 1970 contract open for negotiation.

"It was a miracle," Owens said of his escape.

'Johnsons' Observe 34th Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marriage played a special part of President Johnson's weekend. He celebrated his own 34th wedding anniversary Sunday and attended the marriage ceremony of one of his young aides.

The President and his wife Lady Bird noted their 34 years of marriage by exchanging sentimental gifts. Johnson gave his wife a letter he had written for the anniversary.

The First Lady, in turn, presented the President with a copy of her diary entry dated Feb. 13, 1941, the first time the then Texas congressman and his wife attended a social function at the White House.

Sunday night, the Johnsons attended the wedding of his appointments secretary, Jim Jones, to Olivia Barclay, a Washington attorney.

Jones, at 29 one of the youngest men to hold the appointments post, was once described by his boss as having never made a mistake.

Xenia Employes Accept New Pact

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Garbage pickups, water and sewage service and other services will be carried on as normal here today, the threat of a strike by nonuniformed city employes apparently ended.

Fifty-four workers in the garbage, street repair and cleaning, water works and sewage departments had threatened to strike today in a wage dispute which has dragged on since summer.

But Sunday, Vincent Koester, business agent for Local 101 of the Dayton Public Service Union, which represents the workers, said they had accepted a 5 per cent pay increase and a one-year contract.

The workers, demanding a 7½ per cent wage hike, earlier had turned down the city's offer of 5 per cent over two years. The current minimum wages for full-time workers ranges from $2.26 to $2.90 an hour.

Koester said the one - year pact was approved because it leaves the 1970 contract open for negotiation.

Instructors Vote On Pact In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Tentative agreement has been reached to end the months-long teachers' strike and get 1.1 million pupils back in city schools, but some union members have voiced objections to the proposals.

Mayor John V. Lindsay announced the hoped-for accord Sunday following 27 hours of talks at his official residence, Gracie Mansion.

The rank-and-file vote of the 55,000-member United Federation of Teachers, held Sunday night from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., continues from 8-11 a.m. today.

Pending outcome of the voting, "the schools will remain closed," UFT President Albert Shanker said.

Shanker, cheered by 17,000 union teachers packing Madison Square Garden Sunday afternoon, was heckled, however, at a meeting of the UFT's delegate assembly with many persons milling about and some shouting, "Sell-out!"

The new contract terms include removal of three principals from the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican Ocean Hill-Brownsville school district in Brooklyn, the focal point of three strikes this school term and another last spring.

Also, the Ocean Hill eight-school district will be supervised by Herbert F. Johnson, a trustee named by state Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. Johnson is associate state commissioner of education.

The local governing board and Rhody McCoy, unit administrator of the district, who were suspended earlier in the dispute will remain suspended until Allen is satisfied the board and McCoy are coopering with the trustee.

In addition, the pact calls for return of 79 white teachers to classroom assignments in the district. Their ouster by the governing board fron the district started the strike, with the union saying job security and due process were at stake. However the dispute has taken on racial overtones.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Paul Coates, a Los Angeles Times columnist and television commentator, died of an apparent heart attack Saturday at the age of 47. In the 1950s Coates hosted two local television shows, "Confidential File," and "Unit One." He was born in New York City.

Independence Seen For Bahama Islands

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Premier Lynden Pindling said Sunday the Bahama islands are moving steadily toward independence, but he warned the task ahead is not an easy one.

Speaking at the Bahamian-American Federation in Miami, Pindling said all the resources of the people of the Bahamas will be needed to mold the approaching nationhood. "We do realize the challenge that we face," he said.

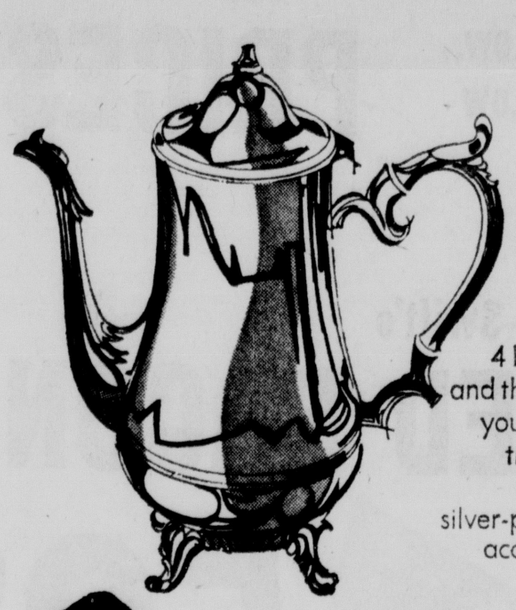

Pindling said the main burden faced by the British colony of 700 islands off Florida is winning an economic struggle, and the greatest challenge will be whether his ruling Progressive Liberal party can perform the task.

Vicar, Wife Rout Burglar After Chase

LONDON (AP) — The vicar seized a sword and routed the housebreaker, but it was the vicar's wife in a nightgown and coat who caught up with the fleeing intruder, slapped his face and held him by the neck.

The violence in the vicarage began with the sound of breaking glass late Saturday night, the Rev. Jack Dover Wellman said today. A former navy officer and air force chaplain, the vicar picked up a three-foot ceremonial sword, a family heirloom, and went to investigate.

"I was determined not to let him go," said Mrs. Wellman. "I kept my left arm tightly round his neck and beat him round the face with my right arm.

"I was roused and infuriated. An Englishman's home is his castle, and it's scandalous for people to try to break in. I think we should all have guns to protect ourselves.

"As I was saying to the bishop only on Friday, if we are going to preserve our society we must fight to the death."

Several neighbors were wakened by the commotion and helped hold the man for the police. He collapsed in the police station and was taken to a hospital.

The vicar said he had used the sword once before—to chase some burglars away from the vicarage three years ago.

It is estimated that more honeymooners visit Niagara Falls in September than in June.

City Girl Hospitalized After 5-Car Collision

An East Liverpool girl was hospitalized and four other area residents — injured in a five-car accident on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Super Road Sunday afternoon.

Robert D. Nidy, 55, of Carrollton stopped his 1966 sedan behind the Evelsizer auto, and his auto was struck in the rear by a 1965 sedan driven by Carol J. Crubaugh, 18, of 1254 Oakwood Ave. The Nidy car was then knocked into the Evelsizer auto.

Stephen J. Richards, 18, of Newell, driving a 1965 coupe, realized he could not stop in time and steered to the left to avoid the other autos. He drove across the medial strip and struck a 1968 sedan operated by Miss Oliver who was northbound changing from the left to the right lane when the impact occurred.

Others treated at the hospital and released were Debbie Tipton, 18, daughter of C. B. Tipton of 1234 Sunnyside Ave., who received contusions of the left upper arm and a possible nose fracture. Miss Tipton was a passenger in the Crubaugh auto. Carol Crubaugh was treated for lacerations of the chin.

Crubaugh was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Richards was fined a total of $35 and costs today in Municipal Court by Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp on two citations issued by the patrol.

He was fined $10 and costs on a charge of driving without an operator's permit and $25 anl costs on a charge of driving across the medial strip.

The front ends of the Nidy, Richards, and Oliver vehicles were deomilshed. The Evelsizer station wagon received damage to the right side and the Crubaugh auto received severe damage to the front.

At 4 p.m. Saturday on Route 45 about two miles north of Lisbon, Harriet E. Johnson, 34, of RD 5 Lisbon was northbound, attempting to turn into a private drive, when a car driven by Michael Wayne Bowen, 19, of Lisbon, also northbound in a 1963 sedan, struck the Johnson vehicle in the rear. The Johnson vehicle then went off the left side of the road and hit a fence and a house.

Both received injuries but apparently were not treated. Bowen was cited for reckless operation and for lack of an operator's license.

On Route 267 at 11:20 a.m. Saturday, Elizabeth L. Jackson, 16, of 340 Carolina Ave., Chester, lost control of her 1961 compact station wagon which went off the south side of the road into a guard rail while she was attempting to make a right turn. She was cited for making an improper right turn.

Continuance Granted Man In Property Case

Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp today granted a continuance until Jan. 17 in a case in which Owen D. Kountz of Erie St. is charged with failure to comply with an order from Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne to tear down or repair a one-story brick dwelling at 127-129 W. 2nd St. which he owns.

The continuance was granted on motion of Solicitor J. Michael Kapp when Kountz appeared this morning for a scheduled hearing. Paul Robin, counsel for the defendant, indicated Kountz desired an extension in order to repair the property.

VanDyne's order condemned the property and termed it "in dilapidated condition" and a public nuisance. The order, issued in April, gave Kountz 30 days in which to tear down the property or repair it.

City Girl Hospitalized After 5-Car Collision

An East Liverpool girl was hospitalized and four other area residents — injured in a five-car accident on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Super Road Sunday afternoon.

Robert D. Nidy, 55, of Carrollton stopped his 1966 sedan behind the Evelsizer auto, and his auto was struck in the rear by a 1965 sedan driven by Carol J. Crubaugh, 18, of 1254 Oakwood Ave. The Nidy car was then knocked into the Evelsizer auto.

Stephen J. Richards, 18, of Newell, driving a 1965 coupe, realized he could not stop in time and steered to the left to avoid the other autos. He drove across the medial strip and struck a 1968 sedan operated by Miss Oliver who was northbound changing from the left to the right lane when the impact occurred.

Others treated at the hospital and released were Debbie Tipton, 18, daughter of C. B. Tipton of 1234 Sunnyside Ave., who received contusions of the left upper arm and a possible nose fracture. Miss Tipton was a passenger in the Crubaugh auto. Carol Crubaugh was treated for lacerations of the chin.

Mrs. Romaine Nidy of Carrollton, a passenger in her husband's car, was treated for contusions and muscle strain of the back and neck.

Richards, and a passenger, Charles Higgins of Chester RD 1, complained of injuries, but apparently were not treated.

Crubaugh was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Richards was fined a total of $35 and costs today in Municipal Court by Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp on two citations issued by the patrol.

He was fined $10 and costs on a charge of driving without an operator's permit and $25 anl costs on a charge of driving across the medial strip.

The front ends of the Nidy, Richards, and Oliver vehicles were deomilshed. The Evelsizer station wagon received damage to the right side and the Crubaugh auto received severe damage to the front.

At 4 p.m. Saturday on Route 45 about two miles north of Lisbon, Harriet E. Johnson, 34, of RD 5 Lisbon was northbound, attempting to turn into a private drive, when a car driven by Michael Wayne Bowen, 19, of Lisbon, also northbound in a 1963 sedan, struck the Johnson vehicle in the rear. The Johnson vehicle then went off the left side of the road and hit a fence and a house.

Both received injuries but apparently were not treated. Bowen was cited for reckless operation and for lack of an operator's license.

On Route 267 at 11:20 a.m. Saturday, Elizabeth L. Jackson, 16, of 340 Carolina Ave., Chester, lost control of her 1961 compact station wagon which went off the south side of the road into a guard rail while she was attempting to make a right turn. She was cited for making an improper right turn.

Vikings Take Central Division Lead; Meredith, Starr Hurt

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

It was another dreary weekend in Pittsburgh, weather-wise as well as football-wise.

Both Pitt and the Steelers went down to defeat in the rain, chill and overcast that on Saturday got so dark that Panther fans were yelling "Turn on the lights" (There are no lights at Pitt Stadium).

Actually, both teams played better than in many of their reverses this year. The Steelers were trailing only 24-10 in the third period and driving for a score when a fumble stopped the drive and their momentum. Pitt put up a stalwart defensive effort — not allowing a touchdown until near the end of the third period.

PITT'S OFFENSE, which earlier this season had shown signs of life, was woeful, especially the passing. Sophomore Denny Ferris ran well until he was injured in the third period, but Quarterback Dave Havern couldn't find the mark on his passes, ending up 2 for 13. The weather was not conducive to passing, as Army quarterback Steve Lindell was also 2 for 13.

By the time East Liverpool's Chuck Winters relieved Havern late in the game, the Army defensive line was penetrating into the Pitt backfield with regularity. Winters hit one of five attempts for 22 yards. He also fumbled on the 2 after Pitt had intercepte a pass on the 10, setting up Army's second TD.

The rain also subdued the usual color attending a game involving a service academy. The Army first classmen (seniors) were present, but the mud prevented them from marching at halftime. There were three cadets riding mules, and they "captured" three Pitt girl cheerleaders and gave them a ride around the stadium at halftime.

The Pitt mascot, a Panther cub which looks about a ferocious as the Pitt attack, was led on a leash by another cheerleader and the young feline seemed to enjoy the mud puddles, much to the dismay of the cheerleaders who had to carry it when it refused to leave the Army side of the stadium.

WHILE THE Pitt offense was letting the defense down, the situation was reversed in Cincinnati, where the Cincinnati U. defense let the offense down. The Bearcats gained a fantastic 714 yards, including 554 in passing by Greg Cook, but still lost to Ohio U., 60-48. The unbeaten Bobcats gained "only" 491 yards, but managed to score nine touchdowns.

San Francisco Ties L.A. Rams

After 10 weeks on the National Football League firing line the Minnesota Vikings are marked men . . . and proud of it.

"It's the mark of a winner when you can win the close ones," Coach Bud Grant said Sunday after his Vikings grabbed the Central Division lead with a 13-6 come-from-behind victory over the Detroit Lions.

Minnesota, which finished in the Central cellar a year ago, moved one game ahead of the injury-plagued Chicago Bears, who bowed to Atlanta 16-13 and lost quarterback Virgil Carter for the rest of the season.

Dallas' Don Meredith also was forced out of action in the Cowboys' 44-24 romp over Washington and Green Bay's Bart Starr was hurt in the Packers' 29-7 victory over New Orleans as injuries continued to throw NFL signal-callers for losses.

The San Francisco 49ers held Los Angeles to a 20-20 standoff and the New York Giants shaded Philadelphia 7-6 in other games.

The Vikings, who edged Green Bay's defending NFL champs 14-10 last week, pushed their record to 6-4 as Jim Lindsey bulled over for a third period touchdown and Fred Cox booted his second field goal of the game with less than a minute remaining.

Carter, the rookie quarterback who had sparked the Bears to four consecutive victories, suffered a broken right ankle in the third period when he was hit by two Atlanta tacklers on an end sweep. He joins halfback Gale Sayers, shelved for the remainder of the season with torn knee ligaments, on the mounting Chicago casualty list.

"It'll hurt for a couple of days, but I think it will come around," said the often-injured Dallas ace. "I don't know about playing next Sunday (against the Bears). That will be close. But I won't be out more than that."

"Bart bruised his ribs earlier in the game," said Packers Coach Phil Bengtson.

"It might be a severe bruise or fracture, but none of this is any good."

Starr, however, said he would start next week against Washington. The Green Bay veteran set up two touchdowns with 33 and 47-yard air strikes to Carroll Dale before leaving the game.

Balding Fires Canada's Win In World Cup

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP) — After 16 years Canada has finally put its name on the cup it once called its own.

Al Balding, Canada's goodwill golfing ambassador, teamed with George Knudson for the etching ceremony Sunday by winning the World Cup golf tournament, formerly called the Canada Cup.

This tournament started in 1953 with two-men teams representing each country, and never before had the Canadians won.

Balding, who almost retired from golf until he had a shoulder injury corrected by surgery in 1965, rang up a 14-under-par 274, only two shots off the record and good enough for individual honors.

He fired a 67 on the final round and Knudson, who won individual honors two years ago, a 74 for a final 295.

Trevino and Boros, who with Nationalist China led by two strokes entering the final round, finished with rounds of 73 and 72, respectively. Trevino was third behind Balding and Italy's Roberto Bernardini for individual score with 283 while Boros had 288.

Thus Canada cut into U.S. dominance of the tournament, which it had won 10 of the 15 years, including last year's victory by Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Browns Bomb Steelers

PITTSURGH (AP) — In the end zone, Joe Anton and his wife, two Cleveland Brown fans, draped a big sign over the concrete wall. It read: "Thanks for Nelsen."

Another sign with the same lettering hung from the stands in back of the Browns' bench. Several Pittsburgh Steeler rooters grabbed it and ripped it to pieces.

But their act didn't dim the performance of Cleveland quarterback Bill Nelsen—the man whom the signs referred to and who the Steelers gave up on.

Starting his second game against his old teammates, Nelsen led tre Browns to a 45-24 drubbing of the Steelers Sunday. He completed 18 of 27 passes for 258 yards and three touchdowns, then retired for the final quarter and let Frank Ryan take over.

"The pressure was just the pressure of playing a game," he said. "I've have to say the pressure was greater against Baltimore."

Indians Will Open April 11

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Participating in division play for the first time, the Cleveland Indians will open their American League home baseball schedule Friday afternoon, April 11, against the Boston Red Sox.

The 81-game schedule includes 48 night games and four weekday afternoon contests. No twi-night doubleheaders are scheduled.

Cleveland will be in the Eastern Division with the world champion Detroit Tigers, Boston, Baltimore, New York and Washington.

The Western Division will include Minnesota, Chicago, California, Oakland, Seattle and Kansas City. The latter two are expansion clubs as the American League increases to 12 teams.

The Indians will play each of the Eastern Division teams 18 times—nine games at home and nine away. Each of the Western Division teams will play six games in Cleveland.

The new starting time for night games at Cleveland Stadium will be 7:45 p.m. All single day games, except for five Saturday dates, will start at 1:30 p.m. Sunday doubleheaders will start at 1 p.m. Four of the Saturday games will start at 2:15 p.m.

Late Oakland Rally Defeats Jets 43-32

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

In a game that squeezed in 14 points in the first 3:15, neither Oakland nor the New York Jets could decide the turning point, but millions of pro football fans throughout the country could—it came when NBC turned off the game.

Just before Daryle Lamonica threw the switch for Oakland, the television network threw one of its own and viewers missed the final frantic minute of the eye-popping struggle that kept the Raiders in the American Football League race with a 43-32 victory over the Jets.

When the blackout came with NBC switching to the story of Heidi, the regularly scheduled children's special show, Lamonica was just about to throw 43 yards to Charley Smith for the winning touchdown.

The Raiders followed that by recovering the ensuing kickoff on the four yard line with Preston Ridlehuber taking it in for another score—two in nine seconds.

Elsewhere in the Western Division of the AFL, victories came on schedule as Kansas City passed by Boston 31-17 and San Diego slushed by Buffalo 21-6, keeping Kansas City, 8-2, a half game ahead of Oakland and San Diego, both 7-2.

In other games Houston overcame Denver 38-17 and Cincinnati upset Miami 38-21.

Kansas City accomplished its victory with less excitement after overcoming an early 10-0 deficit with a devastating passing attack made necessary by a usual potent running attack that bogged down to only 27 yards on 26 carries.

Len Dawson teamed with Frank Pitts on a 90-yard scoring play, then Goldie Sellers ran a punt back 76 yards and Dawson added a 78-yard scoring play to Gloster Richardson for a 24-10 lead. He finished with a 43-yard toss to Mike Garrett.

Cincinnati also lost a quarterback, Sam Wyche, to a broken left ankle, but John Stofa came on to put the Bengals ahead 24-21 with a 55-yard aerial to Warren McVea. Rookie Paul Robinson, top rusher in the AFL, added his second and third scoring runs of the day.

The spree ruined a fine show by Miami's Bob Griese, who evaded a strong rush long enough to pitch for 253 yards and three touchdowns.

Heidi Show Upstages AFL Game

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Try to understand Daddy if he grumbles at the mention of Heidi, that lovable little storybook character.

Heidi threw a block into professional football Sunday night, bringing a deluge of telephone calls that reached such proportions the fuses in the NBC switchboard blew out.

And there was one minute left. And what a minute it was as Oakland scored two touchdowns for a 43-32 victory.

"It was an forgivable error committed by human beings who were concerned about the children expecting to see Heidi at 7 p.m.," said Julian Goodman, NBC president. "I missed the end of the game as much as anyone else."

The final minute of the game was shown on late night newscast—11:20 p.m. over WNBC in New York—but by then telephone calls from fans had reached the thousands.

Vikings Take Central Division Lead; Meredith, Starr Hurt

Sports Whirled

It was another dreary weekend in Pittsburgh, weather-wise as well as football-wise.

Both Pitt and the Steelers went down to defeat in the rain, chill and overcast that on Saturday got so dark that Panther fans were yelling "Turn on the lights" (There are no lights at Pitt Stadium).

Actually, both teams played better than in many of their reverses this year. The Steelers were trailing only 24-10 in the third period and driving for a score when a fumble stopped the drive and their momentum. Pitt put up a stalwart defensive effort — not allowing a touchdown until near the end of the third period.

PITT'S OFFENSE, which earlier this season had shown signs of life, was woeful, especially the passing. Sophomore Denny Ferris ran well until he was injured in the third period, but Quarterback Dave Havern couldn't find the mark on his passes, ending up 2 for 13. The weather was not conducive to passing, as Army quarterback Steve Lindell was also 2 for 13.

By the time East Liverpool's Chuck Winters relieved Havern late in the game, the Army defensive line was penetrating into the Pitt backfield with regularity. Winters hit one of five attempts for 22 yards. He also fumbled on the 2 after Pitt had intercepte a pass on the 10, setting up Army's second TD.

The rain also subdued the usual color attending a game involving a service academy. The Army first classmen (seniors) were present, but the mud prevented them from marching at halftime. There were three cadets riding mules, and they "captured" three Pitt girl cheerleaders and gave them a ride around the stadium at halftime.

The Pitt mascot, a Panther cub which looks about a ferocious as the Pitt attack, was led on a leash by another cheerleader and the young feline seemed to enjoy the mud puddles, much to the dismay of the cheerleaders who had to carry it when it refused to leave the Army side of the stadium.

WHILE THE Pitt offense was letting the defense down, the situation was reversed in Cincinnati, where the Cincinnati U. defense let the offense down. The Bearcats gained a fantastic 714 yards, including 554 in passing by Greg Cook, but still lost to Ohio U., 60-48. The unbeaten Bobcats gained "only" 491 yards, but managed to score nine touchdowns.

San Francisco Ties L.A. Rams

After 10 weeks on the National Football League firing line the Minnesota Vikings are marked men . . . and proud of it.

"It's the mark of a winner when you can win the close ones," Coach Bud Grant said Sunday after his Vikings grabbed the Central Division lead with a 13-6 come-from-behind victory over the Detroit Lions.

Minnesota, which finished in the Central cellar a year ago, moved one game ahead of the injury-plagued Chicago Bears, who bowed to Atlanta 16-13 and lost quarterback Virgil Carter for the rest of the season.

Dallas' Don Meredith also was forced out of action in the Cowboys' 44-24 romp over Washington and Green Bay's Bart Starr was hurt in the Packers' 29-7 victory over New Orleans as injuries continued to throw NFL signal-callers for losses.

But Earl Morrall, the veteran quarterback who stepped in for Baltimore's ailing Johnny Unitas at the outset of the campaign, remained in top form as the Colts trampled St. Louis 27-0 and Cleveland passer Bill Nelsen sparkled against his former Pittburgh teammates as the Brown ripped the Steelers 45-24.

The San Francisco 49ers held Los Angeles to a 20-20 standoff and the New York Giants shaded Philadelphia 7-6 in other games.

The Vikings, who edged Green Bay's defending NFL champs 14-10 last week, pushed their record to 6-4 as Jim Lindsey bulled over for a third period touchdown and Fred Cox booted his second field goal of the game with less than a minute remaining.

Carter, the rookie quarterback who had sparked the Bears to four consecutive victories, suffered a broken right ankle in the third period when he was hit by two Atlanta tacklers on an end sweep. He joins halfback Gale Sayers, shelved for the remainder of the season with torn knee ligaments, on the mounting Chicago casualty list.

Meredith flipped two touchdown passes before tearing a muscle in his left knee as the Cowboys held their one-game lead over New York in the Capitol Division of overpowering the Redskins.

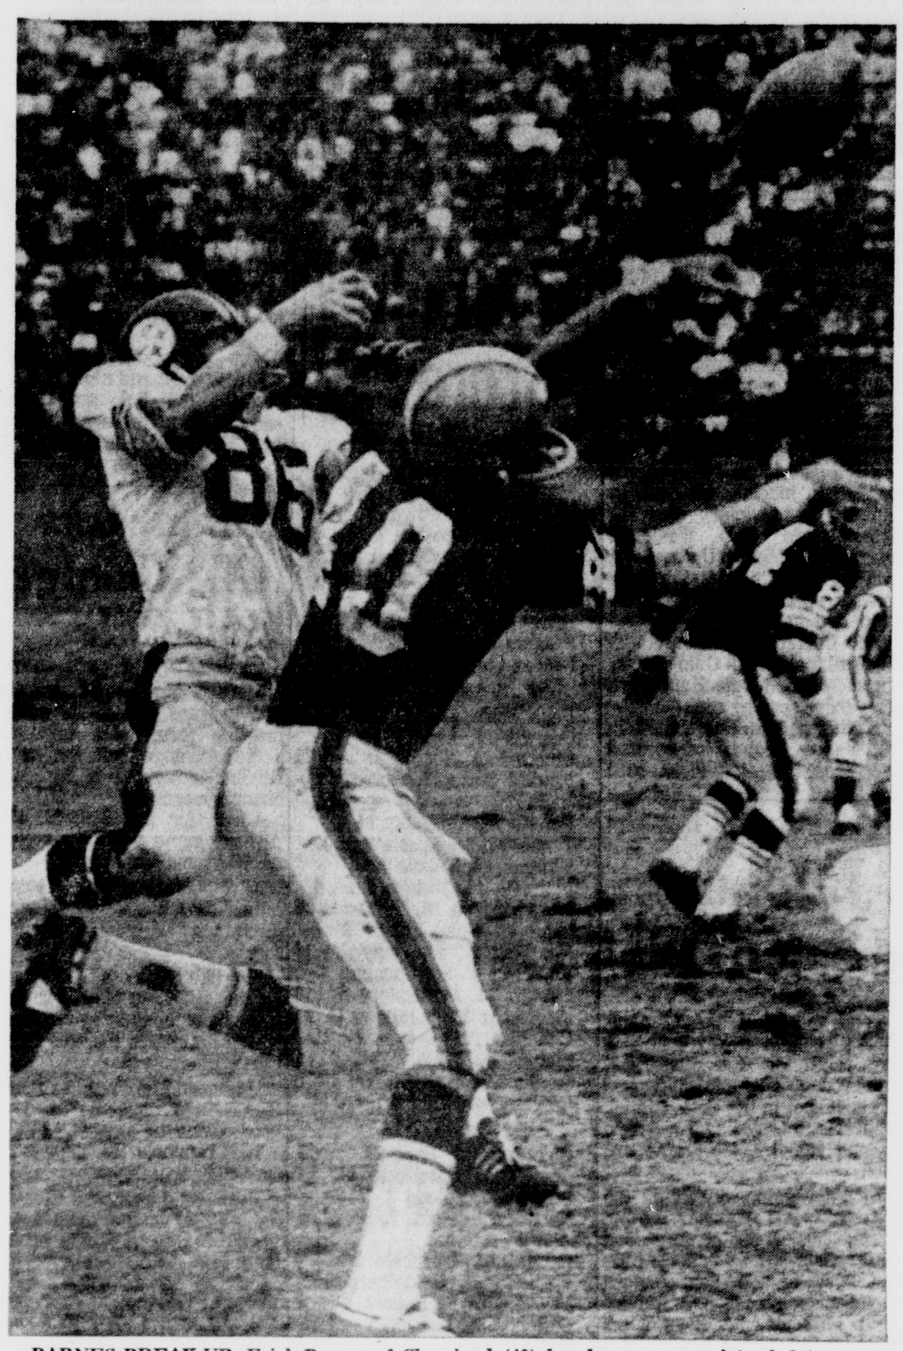

"It'll hurt for a couple of days, but I think it will come around," said the often-injured Dallas ace. "I don't know about playing next Sunday (against the Bears). That will be close. But I won't be out more than that."

Starr gave way to Zeke Bratkowski early in the third quartr after being decked on an 11-yard scramble.

"Bart bruised his ribs earlier in the game," said Packers Coach Phil Bengtson.

"It might be a severe bruise or fracture, but none of this is any good."

Starr, however, said he would start next week against Washington. The Green Bay veteran set up two touchdowns with 33 and 47-yard air strikes to Carroll Dale before leaving the game.

Browns Bomb Steelers

PITTSURGH (AP) — In the end zone, Joe Anton and his wife, two Cleveland Brown fans, draped a big sign over the concrete wall. It read: "Thanks for Nelsen."

Another sign with the same lettering hung from the stands in back of the Browns' bench. Several Pittsburgh Steeler rooters grabbed it and ripped it to pieces.

But their act didn't dim the performance of Cleveland quarterback Bill Nelsen—the man whom the Steelers referred to and who the Steelers gave up on.

Starting his second game against his old teammates, Nelsen led tre Browns to a 45-24 drubbing of the Steelers Sunday. He completed 18 of 27 passes for 258 yards and three touchdowns, then retired for the final quarter and let Frank Ryan take over.

"The pressure was just the pressure of playing a game," he said. "I've have to say the pressure was greater against Baltimore."

Late Oakland Rally Defeats Jets 43-32

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

In a game that squeezed in 14 points in the first 3:15, neither Oakland nor the New York Jets could decide the turning point, but millions of pro football fans throughout the country could—it came when NBC turned off the game.

Just before Daryle Lamonica threw the switch for Oakland, the television network threw one of its own and viewers missed the final frantic minute of the eye-popping struggle that kept the Raiders in the American Football League race with a 43-32 victory over the Jets.

When the blackout came with NBC switching to the story of Heidi, the regularly scheduled children's special show, Lamonica was just about to throw 43 yards to Charley Smith for the winning touchdown.

The Raiders followed that by recovering the ensuing kickoff on the four yard line with Preston Ridlehuber taking it in for another score—two in nine seconds.

Elsewhere in the Western Division of the AFL, victories came on schedule as Kansas City passed by Boston 31-17 and San Diego slushed by Buffalo 21-6, keeping Kansas City, 8-2, a half game ahead of Oakland and San Diego, both 7-2.

In other games Houston overcame Denver 38-17 and Cincinnati upset Miami 38-21.

Kansas City accomplished its victory with less excitement after overcoming an early 10-0 deficit with a devastating passing attack made necessary by a usual potent running attack that bogged down to only 27 yards on 26 carries.

Len Dawson teamed with Frank Pitts on a 90-yard scoring play, then Goldie Sellers ran a punt back 76 yards and Dawson added a 78-yard scoring play to Gloster Richardson for a 24-10 lead. He finished with a 43-yard toss to Mike Garrett.

Cincinnati also lost a quarterback, Sam Wyche, to a broken left ankle, but John Stofa came on to put the Bengals ahead 24-21 with a 55-yard aerial to Warren McVea. Rookie Paul Robinson, top rusher in the AFL, added his second and third scoring runs of the day.

The spree ruined a fine show by Miami's Bob Griese, who evaded a strong rush long enough to pitch for 253 yards and three touchdowns.

Heidi Show Upstages AFL Game

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Try to understand Daddy if he grumbles at the mention of Heidi, that lovable little storybook character.

Heidi threw a block into professional football Sunday night, bringing a deluge of telephone calls that reached such proportions the fuses in the NBC switchboard blew out.

NBC aroused the wrath of football fans when it began a television special of Heidi in much of the country to the delight of millions of children.

Football fans have nothing against children—after all some of them grow to be football players—but when Heidi began, the telecast of the American Football League game between New York and Oakland from Oakland ended to every section but the West Coast.

And there was one minute left. And what a minute it was as Oakland scored two touchdowns for a 43-32 victory.

"It was an forgivable error committed by human beings who were concerned about the children expecting to see Heidi at 7 p.m.," said Julian Goodman, NBC president. "I missed the end of the game as much as anyone else."

The final minute of the game was shown on late night newscast—11:20 p.m. over WNBC in New York—but by then telephone calls from fans had reached the thousands.

Balding Fires Canada's Win In World Cup

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP) — After 16 years Canada has finally put its name on the cup it once called its own.

Al Balding, Canada's goodwill golfing ambassador, teamed with George Knudson for the etching ceremony Sunday by winning the World Cup golf tournament, formerly called the Canada Cup.

This tournament started in 1953 with two-men teams representing each country, and never before had the Canadians won.

Balding, who almost retired from golf until he had a shoulder injury corrected by surgery in 1965, rang up a 14-under-par 274, only two shots off the record and good enough for individual honors.

He fired a 67 on the final round and Knudson, who won individual honors two years ago, a 74 for a final 295.

Trevino and Boros, who with Nationalist China led by two strokes entering the final round, finished with rounds of 73 and 72, respectively. Trevino was third behind Balding and Italy's Roberto Bernardini for individual score with 283 while Boros had 288.

Thus Canada cut into U.S. dominance of the tournament, which it had won 10 of the 15 years, including last year's victory by Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Ohio U. Outlasts Cincy

The Ohio college football season has saved the best for last—next Saturday's Ohio Stadium matchup of Ohio State and Michigan for the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl trip.

But the next-to-last Saturday wasn't bad either. Just ask the fans who got tennis necks watching Ohio University's 60-48 victory over Cincinnati.

The Ohio U. Bobcats, relegated to the status of "Ohio's other football powerhouse" by Ohio State's No. 2 national ranking, overcame Bearcat quarterback Greg Cook's record - breaking passing performance to stay undefeated through nine games.

Cook passed for 554 yards—a major college record—and took over the national leadership for total offense this season. He completed 35 of 56 attempts, including four for touchdowns.

The winning Bobcats, ranked 17th nationally and headed for the Tangerine Bowl, got three touchdown passes from quarterback Cleve Bryant, who also ran for two, and three TD runs from Dave LeVeck as they pushed their season scoring total to a school record 348.

Ohio State was able to stifle Iowa's explosive offense only so long, and the Hawkeyes made it close, 33-27, just before the final gun sent the Buckeyes home with their 12th straight win over two seasons.

Quarterback Rex Kern, back in action after sitting out one game with an ankle injury, ran for two touchdowns but let fullback Jim Otis do most of the work on offense. The big runner bulled his way for 166 yards on 29 carries and also scored twice. Halfback John Brockington had the other OSU touchdown, on a 22 - yard run that made it 33-13 late in the final period.

In other top games around Ohio Saturday, Dayton stopped a four-game losing streak by beating Toledo 10-3 with Terry Miller's short touchdown dive making the difference; Jerry Buckmaster scored two touchdowns to lead Xavier to a 23-7 victory over Kent State; Bowling Green, without injured quarterback P. J. Nyitray, was a 7-6 upset victim at Northern Illinois; and small college power Akron had touchdowns from John Vargo and Don Zwisler as it tied Western Kentucky 14-14.

In Ohio Conference games, Marietta assured itself of a second one place finish and its best season (7-2) in 45 years with a 42-0 victory over Heidelberg; Dave Poetter's 33-yard field goal in the closing seconds gave Wooster a 23-21 win over Oberlin; Bill Hawk and Dan Jones scored two touchdowns each in Capital's 40-20 victory over Otterbein, and Ohio Wesleyan knocked off Mount Union 24-11 as Tony Heald's pass interception set up the clinching touchdown late in the game.

In other games, Eastern Michigan's Joe Clinton intercepted five passes as his team beat Wittenberg 14-7, Dave Heimerl's TD run gave Muskingum a 6-0 decision over Hobart; Defiance struck for a quick three-touchdown lead and beat Kenyon 35-7, Ashland's Ron Lab passed for three touchdowns in a 29-6 win over Findlay, Thiel beat John Carroll 12 - 6, Lincoln of Missouri beat Central State 24-0, Kalamazoo edged Hiram 28-12, Lake Forest (Ill.) beat Wilmington 13-7, and Adelbert nipped Case Tech 7-2.

Eight games involving Ohio teams will be played next weekend in the shadow of the Ohio State-Michigan clash, including Miami at Cincinnati, Northern Illinois at Ohio University and Bowling Green at Xavier.

USC Gains Rose Bowl

Michigan's R. J. Johnson Ready For Unbeaten OSU

By The Associated Press

Ohio State wants a chance to stop O.J., but first the Buckeyes will have to stop R.J.

O.J. is O. J. Simpson, who rambled for 238 yards as Southern California, ranked first in The Associated Press' major college football poll, beat Oregon State 17-13 Saturday to run their record to 8-0 and get the host berth for the Rose Bowl.

R. J. is Ron Johnson, who set a major-college, single-game rushing record of 347 yards in leading fourth-ranked Michigan to a 34-9 trouncing of Wisconsin to set that stage for next Saturday's showdown with No. 2 Ohio State that will decide the Big Ten championship and the other Rose Bowl spot.

Other traditional battles next Saturday pit Southern Cal against Pacific—8 rival UCLA, No. 3 Penn State against Pittsburgh, No. 6 Missouri against No. 7 Kansas and unbeaten Yale against undefeated Harvard for the Ivy League title.

Tenth-ranked Arkansas plays Texas Tech in a key game in the race for the Southwest Conference championship and the host spot in the Cotton Bowl, while No. 5 Georgia, No. 8 Texas and No. 9 Notre Dame are idle.

In other games involving the Top Ten last Saturday, Penn State, 8-0, smashed Maryland 57-13; Georgia, 7-0-2, took over top spot in the Southeastern Conference by downing Auburn 17-3; Missouri, 7-2, was upset 28-14 by Oklahoma; Kansas, 8-1, outlasted Kansas State 38-29; Texas, 7-1-1, walloped Texas Christian 47-21; Notre Dame, 7-2, thrashed Georgia Tech 34-6, and Arkansas, 8-1, got by Southern Methodist 35-29.

With the Rose Bowl format set, and, excepting Notre Dame who does not accept bowl bids, all of the other Top Ten teams have a shot at one of the other major bowls — Orange, Cotton, Sugar and Gator.

Penn State appears definitely headed for the Orange Bowl, and Georgia has the inside track for the Sugar.

The Michigan-Ohio State game at Ann Arbor, Mich., always a slam-bang affair should be doubly so this year with so much at stake and with a cast of characters that features Ohio State's surprising sophomores and Michigan's explosive Johnson.

Johnson not only broke the national rushing mark of 340 yards set by Eugene "Mercury" Morris of West Texas State against Montana State last Oct. 5, he also scored five touchdowns as the Wolverines raced to their eighth straight victory since a season-opening loss.

The fleet senior halfback tied Red Granges' Big Ten record of touchdowns in a game by scoring on runs of 35, 67, 1, 60 and 49 yards as he brought his season's rushing yardage to 1,300.

Another major college record—this one passing—was broken in a losing effort. Craig Cook passed for 554 yards as Cincinnati lost to Ohio University 60-48.

The old mark of 513 was set in 1966 by Virgil Carter of Brigham Young. Carter also holds the total yardage record of 599. Cook lost 29 yards running and finished with 525 total offense.

Whitworth Pensacola Golf Victor

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth conquered a balky putter Sunday to finish the last nine in par figures and win the Pensacola Invitational Golf Tournament. She collected $1,875.

Miss Whitworth's 216 for the 54 holes was three strokes ahead of Jo Ann Prentice and it gave her more than $50,000 in winnings on the Ladies Professional Golfers Association tour this year. It was her first victory at Pensacola.

Jo Ann Prentice captured the $1,475 second spot and Betsy Cullen tied with Sybil Griffin for third.

"I had to struggle all the way and had a hard time settling down," Miss Whitworth said.

"I don't know whether it was the pressure of wanting to win here so badly or if it was that you simply can't let down on a single hole.

Miss Whitworth took bogeys at three, eight and nine, but birdied the 10th hole and played par golf from there on in over the 6,316-yard Scenic Hills Country Club where par is 36-37—73.

Mikan Asks ABA Change Foul Rule

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The American Basketball Association trustees opened a two-day meeting today with talks expected to range from the league All-Star game to a foul rule change proposal.

A site for the Jan. 28, 1969 All-Star game will be selected, an ABA spokesman said.

ABA Commissioner George Mikan said there will be some discussion to modify the foul rule.

"I'd like to assess the foul and let the offensive team take the ball out of bounds to cut down on the parade to the free throw line," Mikan said.

Mikan said he "would vote for the change now, but I don't know about the owners."

The proposal is similar to Olympic regulations.

U.S. Team Leads Canada Horse Show

TORONTO (AP) — The U.S. equestrian team took another step toward a sweep of all six national horse shows this season by pulling 20 points ahead of Canada at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair Sunday.

Led by Carol Hofmann, on Outlate, and Neal Shapiro, on Blue Plum, the United States added 16 points for a 51 total.

Miss Hofmann and Shapiro took first and second, respectively, in the Lt. Col. Stuart C. Bate Memorial Challenge Trophy, marking the ninth straight year U.S. riders have won the jumping event.

Miss Hofmann, of North Branch, N.J., cleared 14 obstacles in one minute for 28 points and Shapiro, of Old Brookville, N.Y., managed 26 points with 13 successful jumps in the same time.

In the International Individual Puissance, Shapiro made the final round on Trick Track, but was eliminated on the high wall. Miss Hofmann had a perfect course in the preliminary, but withdrew from the first jump off.

Barons Lose 3-1 Lead, Fall To Providence

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Left wing Yves Locas' second goal of the game midway through the third period Sunday night led the Providence Reds to a come-from-behind 6-4 victory over the Cleveland Barons in an American Hockey League game.

Locas snapped a 4-4 tie at 7:07 of the final period when he took a pass from center Don McKenney and drilled a 25-footer past goalie Bernie Wakeley.

Ed Kachur of Providence and Wayne Schultz of Cleveland had traded first period goals before Bob Berry and Duane Rupp gave the Barons a 3-1 lead midway through the second period.

Rookie Stan Bahnsen of the New York Yankees won 17 games last season. He lost 12 and in pitching 267 innings he compiled a 2.05 earned run average.

Posts Help Giacomin

Rangers Nip Montreal, Take NHL Eastern Lead

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

"The posts." Emile Francis, an old goaltender, once observed, "are a goalie's best friends."

They came through for Ed Giacomin, the New York Rangers' goalie Sunday night, helping him preserve a 3-2 victory over Montreal that moved New York past the Canadiens and into first place in the National Hockey League's East Division.

Francis, general manager of the Rangers, had to like the clanging sounds made by two Montreal shots that banged harmlessly off the goal posts behind Giacomin in the third period.

The first was by Mickey Redmond—a shot on which several Canadien skaters lifted their sticks, indicating a goal. The second was by Jacques Lemaire. Either one would have tied the game for the Canadiens, who dropped one point behind New York in the East race.

Elsewhere Sunday night, Boston ripped Oakland 6-3, Philadelphia dropped Los Angeles 3-1, Minnesota and St. Louis played a 3-3 tie and Toronto tied Chicago, 1-1.

On Saturday, New York trimmed Pittsburgh 2-1, Toronto dropped Chicago 3-1, Minnesota nipped Los Angeles 3-2, Oakland battled Montreal to a 3-3 tie and Detroit tied St. Louis, 1-1.

Fred Stanfield's power play goal broke a second period tie and then the Boston center added another goal in the third period as the Bruins whipped Oakland. Boston remained third in the East Division, just two points back of the Rangers.

Marcel Pronovost's 45-foot shot skipped off Chicago's Howie Young and into the Black Hawks' net for Toronto's tying goal in the third period. It was the first of the season for the veteran Maple Leaf defenseman.

Philadelphia bounced three goals in the third period to beat Los Angeles and take over second place in the West Division. Jim Johnson's 30-footer with 3:01 left to play snapped a 1-1 tie and then Brit Selby hit an empty net for an insurance goal.

Claude Larose and Jean Paul Parise had hit to give the North Stars a third-period lead before Schock connected.

Boston Leads East

Lakers Win 8th Straight, Widen NBA West Lead

By The Associated Press

Remember all that talk about much trouble Los Angeles was having winning, despite the presence of Wilt Chamberlain, Jerry West and Elgin Baylor? Well, that's all it was—talk.

Right now, the Lakers are having their say, and they're leaving the rest of the Western Division of the National Basketball Association speechless.

That's the way it was Sunday night as the Lakers hogged the floor and swept aside the Seattle SuperSonics 105-94 for their eighth econsecutive victory and a 4½ game lead in the division.

In the only American Basketball Association game Indiana raced past the New York Nets 114-91.

With some help from rookie Bill Hewitt, Chamberlain, West and Baylor sank the Sonics. Chamberlain had 17 points, despite hitting only three of 17 free throws; Baylor hit 26, and West 19 as they overcame one-point deficit entering the last quarter. It was then that Hewitt, who had 14 points, hit key basket to keep them on top.

Boston took an early lead and blew Phoenix off the court for a 19-point halftime spread. Bailey Howell and Larry Siegfried had 28 and 22 points, respectively, for the Celts.

Bob Netolicky hit 13 of his 24 points in a third period surge that turned a 54-50 halftime lead for Indiana into an 18-point advantage for new Coach Bob Leonard's first victory. Roger Brown also had 24 points for the Pacers and Mel Daniels 21. Oliver Darden had 22 for the Nets.

On Saturday in the NBA, Los Angeles dropped San Francisco 119-112, Boston beat San Diego 120-112, Cincinnati stopped Atlanta 130-125, New York crushed Chicago 119-97, Philadelphia hammered Milwaukee 136-92 and Seattle edged Detroit 123-119.

In the ABA, Dallas defeated Denver 110-95, Los Angeles whipped Houston 103-94 and Minnesota topped Kentucky 123-113.

Ohio U. Outlasts Cincy

The Ohio college football season has saved the best for last—next Saturday's Ohio Stadium matchup of Ohio State and Michigan for the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl trip.

But the next-to-last Saturday wasn't bad either. Just ask the fans who got tennis necks watching Ohio University's 60-48 victory over Cincinnati.

The Ohio U. Bobcats, relegated to the status of "Ohio's other football powerhouse" by Ohio State's No. 2 national ranking, overcame Bearcat quarterback Greg Cook's record - breaking passing performance to stay undefeated through nine games.

Cook passed for 554 yards—a major college record—and took over the national leadership for total offense this season. He completed 35 of 56 attempts, including four for touchdowns.

The winning Bobcats, ranked 17th nationally and headed for the Tangerine Bowl, got three touchdown passes from quarterback Cleve Bryant, who also ran for two, and three TD runs from Dave LeVeck as they pushed their season scoring total to a school record 348.

Ohio State was able to stifle Iowa's explosive offense only so long, and the Hawkeyes made it close, 33-27, just before the final gun sent the Buckeyes home with their 12th straight win over two seasons.

Quarterback Rex Kern, back in action after sitting out one game with an ankle injury, ran for two touchdowns but let fullback Jim Otis do most of the work on offense. The big runner bulled his way for 166 yards on 29 carries and also scored twice. Halfback John Brockington had the other OSU touchdown, on a 22 - yard run that made it 33-13 late in the final period.

In other top games around Ohio Saturday, Dayton stopped a four-game losing streak by beating Toledo 10-3 with Terry Miller's short touchdown dive making the difference; Jerry Buckmaster scored two touchdowns to lead Xavier to a 23-7 victory over Kent State; Bowling Green, without injured quarterback P. J. Nyitray, was a 7-6 upset victim at Northern Illinois; and small college power Akron had touchdowns from John Vargo and Don Zwisler as it tied Western Kentucky 14-14.

In Ohio Conference games, Marietta assured itself of a second one place finish and its best season (7-2) in 45 years with a 42-0 victory over Heidelberg; Dave Poetter's 33-yard field goal in the closing seconds gave Wooster a 23-21 win over Oberlin; Bill Hawk and Dan Jones scored two touchdowns each in Capital's 40-20 victory over Otterbein, and Ohio Wesleyan knocked off Mount Union 24-11 as Tony Heald's pass interception set up the clinching touchdown late in the game.

In other games, Eastern Michigan's Joe Clinton intercepted five passes as his team beat Wittenberg 14-7, Dave Heimerl's TD run gave Muskingum a 6-0 decision over Hobart; Defiance struck for a quick three-touchdown lead and beat Kenyon 35-7, Ashland's Ron Lab passed for three touchdowns in a 29-6 win over Findlay, Thiel beat John Carroll 12 - 6, Lincoln of Missouri beat Central State 24-0, Kalamazoo edged Hiram 28-12, Lake Forest (Ill.) beat Wilmington 13-7, and Adelbert nipped Case Tech 7-2.

Eight games involving Ohio teams will be played next week end in the shadow of the Ohio State-Michigan clash, including Miami at Cincinnati, Northern Illinois at Ohio University and Bowling Green at Xavier.

Whitworth Pensacola Golf Victor

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth conquered a balky putter Sunday to finish the last nine in par figures and win the Pensacola Invitational Golf Tournament. She collected $1,875.

Miss Whitworth's 216 for the 54 holes was three strokes ahead of Jo Ann Prentice and it gave her more than $50,000 in winnings on the Ladies Professional Golfers Association tour this year. It was her first victory at Pensacola.

Jo Ann Prentice captured the $1,475 second spot and Betsy Cullen tied with Sybil Griffin for third.

"I had to struggle all the way and had a hard time settling down," Miss Whitworth said.

"I don't know whether it was the pressure of wanting to win here so badly or if it was that you simply can't let down on a single hole.

Miss Whitworth took bogeys at three, eight and nine, but birdied the 10th hole and played par golf from there on in over the 6,316-yard Scenic Hills Country Club where par is 36-37—73.

Mikan Asks ABA Change Foul Rule

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The American Basketball Association trustees opened a two-day meeting today with talks expected to range from the league All-Star game to a foul rule change proposal.

A site for the Jan. 28, 1969 All-Star game will be selected, an ABA spokesman said.

ABA Commissioner George Mikan said there will be some discussion to modify the foul rule.

"I'd like to assess the foul and let the offensive team take the ball out of bounds to cut down on the parade to the free throw line," Mikan said.

Mikan said he "would vote for the change now, but I don't know about the owners."

The proposal is similar to Olympic regulations.

Mikan said proposed sites for the All-Star game include Las Vegas, Nev.; Indianapolis; Louisville, and Miami.

U.S. Team Leads Canada Horse Show

TORONTO (AP) — The U.S. equestrian team took another step toward a sweep of all six national horse shows this season by pulling 20 points ahead of Canada at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair Sunday.

Led by Carol Hofmann, on Outlate, and Neal Shapiro, on Blue Plum, the United States added 16 points for a 51 total.

Miss Hofmann and Shapiro took first and second, respectively, in the Lt. Col. Stuart C. Bate Memorial Challenge Trophy, marking the ninth straight year U.S. riders have won the jumping event.

Miss Hofmann, of North Branch, N.J., cleared 14 obstacles in one minute for 28 points and Shapiro, of Old Brookville, N.Y., managed 26 points with 13 successful jumps in the same time.

In the International Individual Puissance, Shapiro made the final round on Trick Track, but was eliminated on the high wall. Miss Hofmann had a perfect course in the preliminary, but withdrew from the first jump off.

Barons Lose 3-1 Lead, Fall To Providence

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Left wing Yves Locas' second goal of the game midway through the third period Sunday night led the Providence Reds to a come-from-behind 6-4 victory over the Cleveland Barons in an American Hockey League game.

Locas snapped a 4-4 tie at 7:07 of the final period when he took a pass from center Don McKenney and drilled a 25-footer past goalie Bernie Wakeley.

Ed Kachur of Providence and Wayne Schultz of Cleveland had traded first period goals before Bob Berry and Duane Rupp gave the Barons a 3-1 lead midway through the second period.

Rookie Stan Bahnsen of the New York Yankees won 17 games last season. He lost 12 and in pitching 267 innings he compiled a 2.05 earned run average.

Posts Help Giacomin

Rangers Nip Montreal, Take NHL Eastern Lead

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

"The posts," Emile Francis, an old goaltender, once observed, "are a goalie's best friends."

They came through for Ed Giacomin, the New York Rangers' goalie Sunday night, helping him preserve a 3-2 victory over Montreal that moved New York past the Canadiens and into first place in the National Hockey League's East Division.

Francis, general manager of the Rangers, had to like the clanging sounds made by two Montreal shots that banged harmlessly off the goal posts behind Giacomin in the third period.

The first was by Mickey Redmond—a shot on which several Canadien skaters lifted their sticks, indicating a goal. The second was by Jacques Lemaire. Either one would have tied the game for the Canadiens, who dropped one point behind New York in the East race.

Elsewhere Sunday night, Boston ripped Oakland 6-3, Philadelphia dropped Los Angeles 3-1, Minnesota and St. Louis played a 3-3 tie and Toronto tied Chicago, 1-1.

On Saturday, New York trimmed Pittsburgh 2-1, Toronto dropped Chicago 3-1, Minnesota nipped Los Angeles 3-2, Oakland battled Montreal to a 3-3 tie and Detroit tied St. Louis, 1-1.

Fred Stanfield's power play goal broke a second period tie and then the Boston center added another goal in the third period as the Bruins whipped Oakland. Boston remained third in the East Division, just two points back of the Rangers.

Marcel Pronovost's 45-foot shot skipped off Chicago's Howie Young and into the Black Hawks' net for Toronto's tying goal in the third period. It was the first of the season for the veteran Maple Leaf defenseman.

Bobby Hull's goal with just 14 seconds left in the second period was Chicago's only score.

Philadelphia bounced three goals in the third period to beat Los Angeles and take over second place in the West Division. Jim Johnson's 30-footer with 3:01 left to play snapped a 1-1 tie and then Brit Selby hit an empty net for an insurance goal.

St. Louis bombed Cesare Maniago with 54 shots but needed a goal by Ron Schock with less than seven minutes remaining to tie Minnesota.

Claude Larose and Jean Paul Parise had hit to give the North Stars a third-period lead before Schock connected.

Boston Leads East

Lakers Win 8th Straight, Widen NBA West Lead

By The Associated Press

Remember all that talk about much trouble Los Angeles was having winning, despite the presence of Wilt Chamberlain, Jerry West and Elgin Baylor? Well, that's all it was—talk.

Right now, the Lakers are having their say, and they're leaving the rest of the Western Division of the National Basketball Association speechless.

That's the way it was Sunday night as the Lakers hogged the floor and swept aside the Seattle SuperSonics 105-94 for their eighth econsecutive victory and a 4½ game lead in the division.

The Lakers now stand 12-4 with no other team in the division over .500.

In the only other game Boston regained the lead in the East with a 130-98 breeze over Phoenix, giving the Celtics an edge of 36 percentage points on Baltimore.

In the only American Basketball Association game Indiana raced past the New York Nets 114-91.

With some help from rookie Bill Hewitt, Chamberlain, West and Baylor sank the Sonics. Chamberlain had 17 points, despite hitting only three of 17 free throws; Baylor hit 26, and West 19 as they overcame one-point deficit entering the last quarter. It was then that Hewitt, who had 14 points, hit key basket to keep them on top.

Boston took an early lead and blew Phoenix off the court for a 19-point halftime spread. Bailey Howell and Larry Siegfried had 28 and 22 points, respectively, for the Celts.

Bob Netolicky hit 13 of his 24 points in a third period surge that turned a 54-50 halftime lead for Indiana into an 18-point advantage for new Coach Bob Leonard's first victory. Roger Brown also had 24 points for the Pacers and Mel Daniels 21. Oliver Darden had 22 for the Nets.

On Saturday in the NBA, Los Angeles dropped San Francisco 119-112, Boston beat San Diego 120-112, Cincinnati stopped Atlanta 130-125, New York crushed Chicago 119-97, Philadelphia hammered Milwaukee 136-92 and Seattle edged Detroit 123-119.

In the ABA, Dallas defeated Denver 110-95, Los Angeles whipped Houston 103-94 and Minnesota topped Kentucky 123-113.

Michigan's R. J. Johnson Ready For Unbeaten OSU

By The Associated Press

Ohio State wants a chance to stop O.J., but first the Buckeyes will have to stop R.J.

O.J. is O. J. Simpson, who rambled for 238 yards as Southern California, ranked first in The Associated Press' major college football poll, beat Oregon State 17-13 Saturday to run their record to 8-0 and get the host berth for the Rose Bowl.

R. J. is Ron Johnson, who set a major-college, single-game rushing record of 347 yards in leading fourth-ranked Michigan to a 34-9 trouncing of Wisconsin to set that stage for next Saturday's showdown with No. 2 Ohio State that will decide the Big Ten championship and the other Rose Bowl spot.

Other traditional battles next Saturday pit Southern Cal against Pacific—8 rival UCLA, No. 3 Penn State against Pittsburgh, No. 6 Missouri against No. 7 Kansas and unbeaten Yale against undefeated Harvard for the Ivy League title.

Tenth-ranked Arkansas plays Texas Tech in a key game in the race for the Southwest Conference championship and the host spot in the Cotton Bowl, while No. 5 Georgia, No. 8 Texas and No. 9 Notre Dame are idle.

In other games involving the Top Ten last Saturday, Penn State, 8-0, smashed Maryland 57-13; Georgia, 7-0-2, took over top spot in the Southeastern Conference by downing Auburn 17-3; Missouri, 7-2, was upset 28-14 by Oklahoma; Kansas, 8-1, outlasted Kansas State 38-29; Texas, 7-1-1, walloped Texas Christian 47-21; Notre Dame, 7-2, thrashed Georgia Tech 34-6, and Arkansas, 8-1, got by Southern Methodist 35-29.

With the Rose Bowl format set, and, excepting Notre Dame who does not accept bowl bids, all of the other Top Ten teams have a shot at one of the other major bowls — Orange, Cotton, Sugar and Gator.

Penn State appears definitely headed for the Orange Bowl, and Georgia has the inside track for the Sugar.

The Michigan-Ohio State game at Ann Arbor, Mich., always a slam-bang affair should be doubly so this year with so much at stake and with a cast of characters that features Ohio State's surprising sophomores and Michigan's explosive Johnson.

Johnson not only broke the national rushing mark of 340 yards set by Eugene "Mercury" Morris of West Texas State against Montana State last Oct. 5, he also scored five touchdowns as the Wolverines raced to their eighth straight victory since a season-opening loss.

The fleet senior halfback tied Red Granges' Big Ten record of touchdowns in a game by scoring on runs of 35, 67, 1, 60 and 49 yards as he brought his season's rushing yardage to 1,300.

Another major college record—this one passing—was broken in a losing effort. Craig Cook passed for 554 yards as Cincinnati lost to Ohio University 60-48.

The old mark of 513 was set in 1966 by Virgil Carter of Brigham Young. Carter also holds the total yardage record of 599. Cook lost 29 yards running and finished with 525 total offense.

HHH Refuses To Announce Future Plans

Humphrey flew to Miami from the U.S. Virgin Islands after telling newsmen, "that's a private matter," when asked if he was in line for a job in the Nixon administration. He said he was not ready to disclose his future plans.

Questioned about a possible appointment as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, Humphrey replied: "I read about that too."

Humphrey, the Democrat Nixon defeated in the race to the White House, flew into Miami International Airport and drove to a hotel on the Atlantic coast without fanfare.

Aides to Nixon, who is staying a few miles down Biscayne Bay, said they had no prior knowledge the vice president was coming to Miami. They said there were no plans for the two men to meet.

Nixon and Humphrey had a smiling, handshaking meeting in Miami three days after Nixon defeated Humphrey for the presidency. Humphrey flew to Miami to visit Nixon before flying to St. Thomas to begin his Virgin Islands vacation.

HHH Refuses To Announce Future Plans

Humphrey flew to Miami from the U.S. Virgin Islands after telling newsmen, "that's a private matter," when asked if he was in line for a job in the Nixon administration. He said he was not ready to disclose his future plans.

Questioned about a possible appointment as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, Humphrey replied: "I read about that too."

Humphrey, the Democrat Nixon defeated in the race to the White House, flew into Miami International Airport and drove to a hotel on the Atlantic coast without fanfare.

Aides to Nixon, who is staying a few miles down Biscayne Bay, said they had no prior knowledge the vice president was coming to Miami. They said there were no plans for the two men to meet.

A spokesman for Humphrey confirmed the vice president had not arranged to talk with Nixon while in the Miami area.

Junior Editors Quiz on ELECTRIC CARS

ANSWER: Strange contraptions like the one at upper left, driven by a steam engine, ushered in the age of cars in the 1790's. By the 1880's, inventors in Europe were trying out the idea of an electric car. A successful one was built in 1893. By 1895, an American electric, the Electrobat, had beaten a gasoline-powered car in a famous race. Such early electrics were powered by motors of from 2 to 4 horsepower, the electricity coming from a battery carried in the car. They did not have to be cranked to start like a gasoline car. Also, they were quiet and clean. But after 1910, their popularity died out. The electric car was too slow. Above all, its batteries had to be changed or recharged every 50 miles. The much faster, more attractively styled gasoline cars caught the public eye. After 1928, electric cars were no longer manufactured on a large scale. But what's that in the lower right? You guessed it, a super-modern electric! Engineers are experimenting with the electric idea again. The heavy batteries electric cars must carry are still the problem, but someone may find a way around it.

(Dick Kasperhauer of Dedham, Iowa, wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
